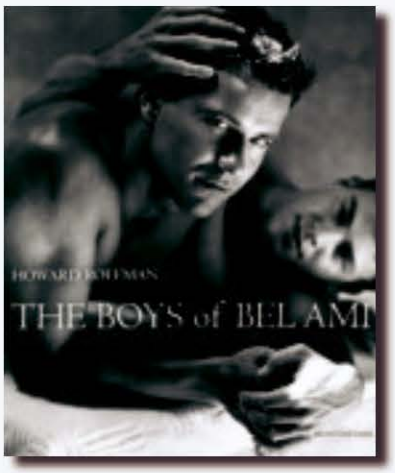
THE BOYS of BEL AMI

BY HOWARD ROFFMAN



Known globally for his studies of beautiful young men, photographer Howard Roffman's books grace many a homo's coffee table. Books like 'Pictures of Kris', 'Tales', 'Friends & Lovers', 'Peter & Petr' and 'Three' show a real connection with the models, mixing posed compositions with casual, everyday shots.
In 2001 Roffman published a book on one of Bel Ami's originals, Johan Paulik. In December 2004 Roffman was invited to Cape Town to photograph fifteen of those gorgeous Eastern European beauties whilst filming the porn flick 'Out In Africa'. Shot over eight days this glorious collection of lush black and whites shows the boys "at work" and at play, and at a whopping 228 pages is his biggest yet.

The Boys Of Bel Ami is available from branches of Prowler and Clone Zone, price £45.
Published by Bruno Gmunder, also available at www.brunogmender.com