A story of what goes on while making an erotic video that is so gleefully silly that it doesn't even pretend to be a documentary. Giving the performers titles like "The Writer", "The Director" and "The Production Assistant" and then titling the scenes things like "The Photo Shoot" and "The Casting" are the only nods director Gregory Marks (aka writer/producer Craig Andrew Ford) give to the actual film-making process in this summer release from HIS video. The real meat is just business-as-usual boys humping each other. But what humping! Tony Belmonte with head rag gets down and dirty with Devon Rexman (opposite page, left) .as do Randy Storm and Tanner Reeves (above).

The plot involves some pictures that Reeves takes of Storm (opposite page) that might fall into the wrong hands. And taking dirty pictures can only lead to one thing: cock sucking and "a cavalcade of butts."

The camera begins close on Rexman (immediate left) jerking himself off. The sight of his big dick shooting off is hot enough, but then when the camera pulls back to reveal that he was sucking on Belmonte's cock the whole time, the heat goes up even more.

Particularly nice is Ryan Block boffing Storm (this page).
