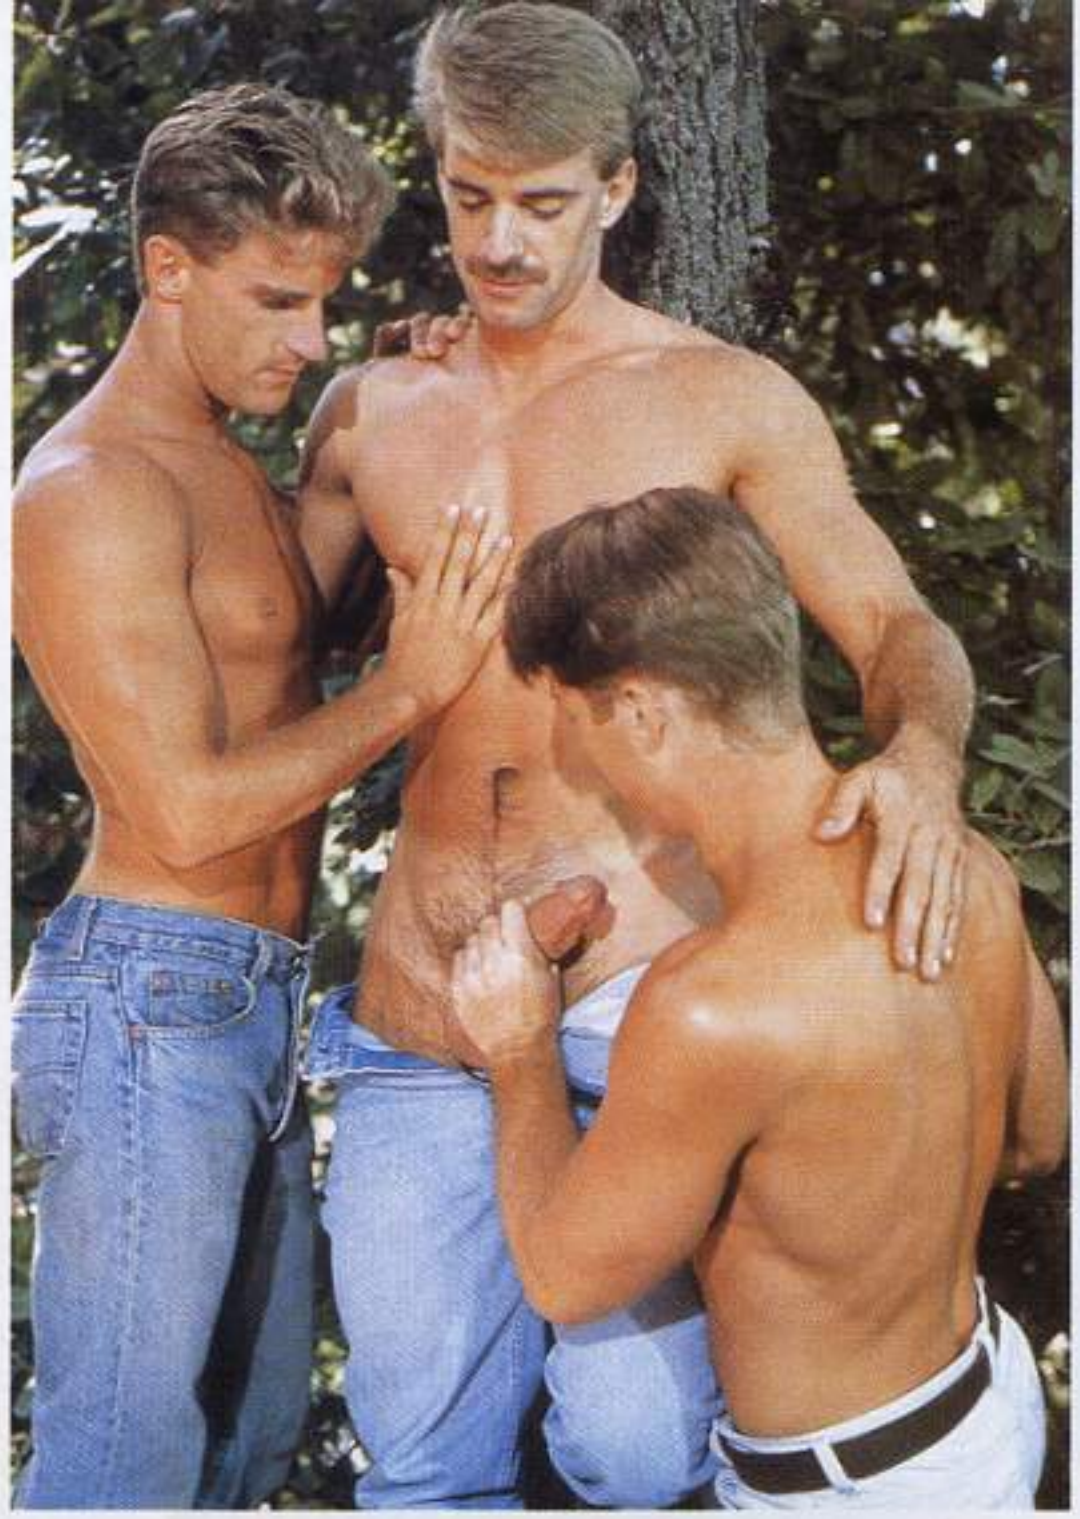
house rules

Director John Rutherford and the fabulous production team at Falcon bring to the little screen another adventure in enraptured, unalloyed lust. A destitute Christian Fox (opposite page) hitchhikes to John Wood's cabin in the middle of nowhere. Wood hires the lad onto his crew and sends him off to a sparsely appointed room. We finally catch on to the fact that Wood is running a pastoral whorehouse with rather attractive johns. Clint Benedict meets up with Wood and arranges for new 'ho Fox to help his little nephew Marco Rossi come out of the closet. Fox makes soft and gentle love to Rossi, nudging him out of his macho shell. It's just like the old days when fathers would take their sons to the bordello to gain carnal knowledge. Well, not exactly, but it's just as sweet.

While Fox is dutifully begging for employment, Scott Baldwin and Zak Spears sex each other by the pool in one of the best scenes of the year. Zak's logic, upright sixty-nine position is quite a sight to behold.



Elsewhere in the woods, Chase Hunter (above left, middle) has his way with Mike Ryan and Jesse Tyler. Pimp John Wood (opposite page, right) and Clint Benedict celebrate Rossi's "deflowering" by working it all out on their own. Wood and Benedict are too filthy for words to convey, although their own mouths say more than enough.