"Free-Range Beef"

There once was a time when all an L.A. based porn producer had to do in order to cast his next magnum opus was get on the horn with one of the half dozen or so XXX talent agents operating locally and present them his shopping list. If we could have listened in, we might have heard something like this: "Shoot's tomorrow... Yeah... I'll be needing two brunette tops — each eight or better — and, uh, one daddy type — with or without beard — also a versatile college type who can deliver a couple of lines — and two blond bottoms. No wait — make that three blond bottoms... No, I don't care if they're blond from a bottle. It's all going to end up in the same place."

The "talent" back then was plentiful, relatively affordable, and most important of all — local. I myself can recall working on or hanging out around the sets of any number of productions that acquired most or all of their casts in this manner. Names like J.J. Talent, The Daniel Holt Agency, and more recently Eros Casting (run for a time by former pornstar Lee Jennings) were familiar names indeed with producers and directors, providing them with invaluable resources.

But all that has changed, There are only two local casting services doing business today — and they represent a very small handful of guys. Though agents in general are more plentiful than ever, most have set up shop in other parts of the country and more often than not are focused more on getting their clients signed up for dance and strip circuit gigs than glamorous motion picture roles. So where have all the porn boys gone? There certainly is no longer a high concentration in L.A.

Just the other day for example I got a call from director John Travis, hard at work on his latest Studio 2000 project. "I need a bottom," he confessed to me over the receiver... "Today, as a matter of fact. I've had a cancellation. Jesus, there just aren't any stars living in town these days. Do you know of anyone?" Once the question was put to me directly, I found myself appalled at not being able to reply in the affirmitive. I too found myself thinking "Where is everybody?" The feeling was kind of eerie. "My God!" I realized, "Hollywood has a dearth of sex stars for a change!"

It's not that there are fewer porn stars finding work these days. Quite the contrary. But they are definitely spread thin geographically and apparantly far fewer are keen these days on moving out here, pursuing video work on the fast track, or learning to play the game of NAKED MOVIESTAR and win.

Some pundits have suggested that the new breed of agent as flesh packager may prove the ruination of commercial porn as we know it. For starters, there's the undeniable fact that agents cost everyone more money — another mouth to feed as it were. Everyone agrees that pornstars deserve go pay and fair compensation. But as more and more of them come to the biz from outside the local reg transportation and accommodation start to become a major factor — suddenly we're far, far away from the days when one could drive down Santa Monica Blvd. on a weekend afternoon and entirely cast your next project from the everpresent "dayworkers".

The last time I looked, agents scattered across Denver, Galveston, Atlanta, and Boston (as well as L.A.) were speaking for almost half the blue movie stars on the circuit. Their clients include such big names as Cort Stevens, Bo Summers, Chase Hunter, Chad Donovan, Chip Daniels, and even Ryan Idol. Another director lamented to me in confidence that he resents flying guys into L.A.for a project, putting them up in a nice hotel, and more often than not locking them into a role sight unseen! And how is a producer who's just signed on for all this supposed to feel when the lad flies out and does your project — but also manages to squeeze in a second (and usually forgettable) video in on the side — sometimes right under the nose of his temporary benefactor. Not that any of the performers listed above have pulled this little trick — that I know of! But you can bet that angle has been worked and worked again.

So as the industry trudges into its second quarter century, I can't help but wonder if the salad days of the biz are gone for good It's strange to find oneself romanticizing about porn. But as so many have discovered for themselves (usually the hard way) romance turns up in the darndest places.

Oh, just for the record, John Travis did find hislast-minute bottom boy that weekend. As luck would have it, one of the all-time great rumps was in town and eager for work. The star in question was "Domino" and the flick has became His Big Brother, The situation, as they say, resolved itself. But one wonders if there ever was a time and place here in L.A. that the gay porn industry had its own "Schwab's Drugstore" — ie. some manner of sun-drenched wading pool for sex boys cooling their heels between offers. If it was out there, surely it's long gone by now. I am forced to appreciate the greater lengths that directors and producers have to go to these days to bring us the slick, clever, world-class smut we've accustomed ourselves too... Or am I just describing this magazine do go on sometimes you know...

posing strap

From the Coke bottles to the Edsel convertible, Chi Chi LaRue gets the 1950's details just right in his latest project for HIS Video, which just might mark the director's greatest triumph as both a storyteller and a pornographer. Kudos go to editor Tab Lloyd and our own Dave Kinnick, serving as videographer. Their side-by-side technical contributions together make this project anything but routine. At a 50's beefcake exhibition at a West Hollywood's art gallery, a gray-haired Zak Spears tells a young art enthusiast about photographing men in the "muscle magazine" era. Flashback to 1959, when Spears worked as an assistant to "Bob of Hollywood" (Mark West). Bob made it a policy never to fool around with his models, so it fell to Spears to arouse erections in model Lance Bronson."

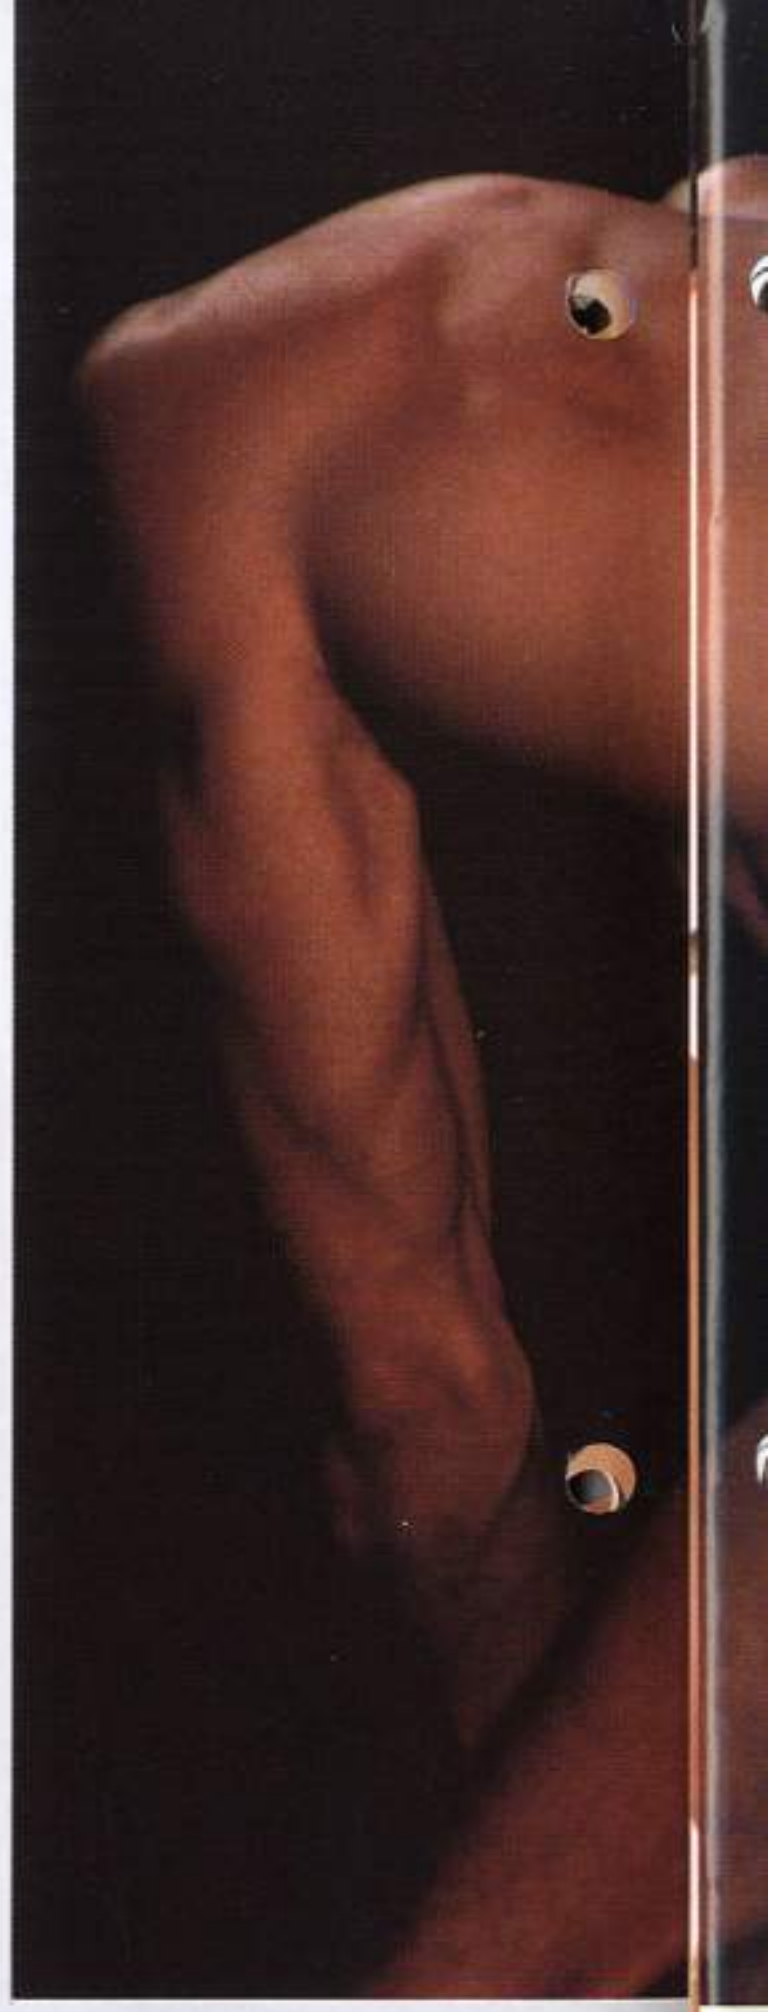
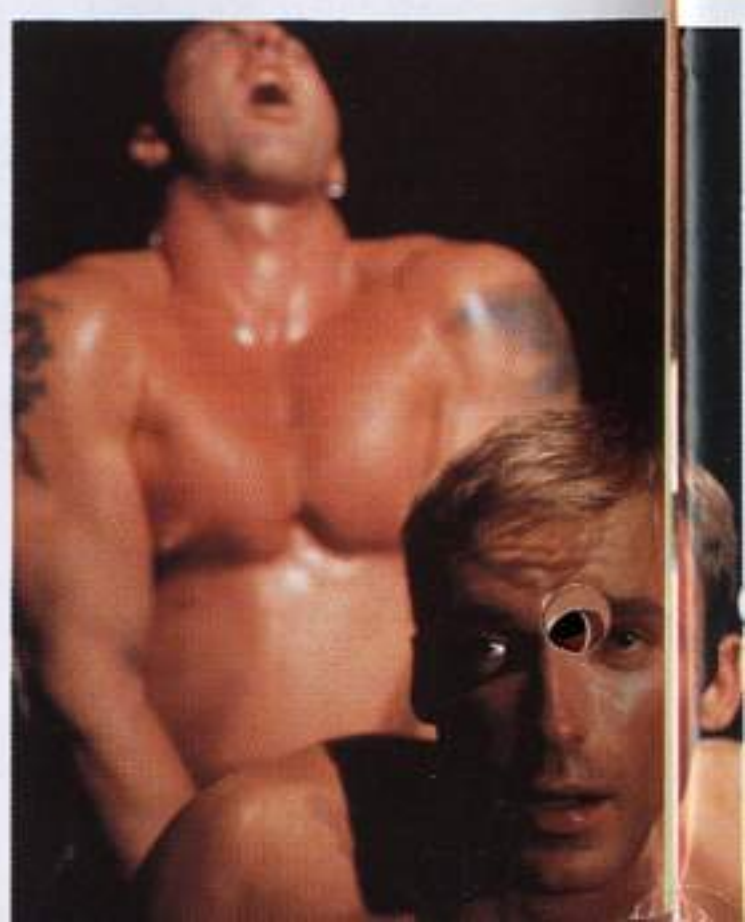
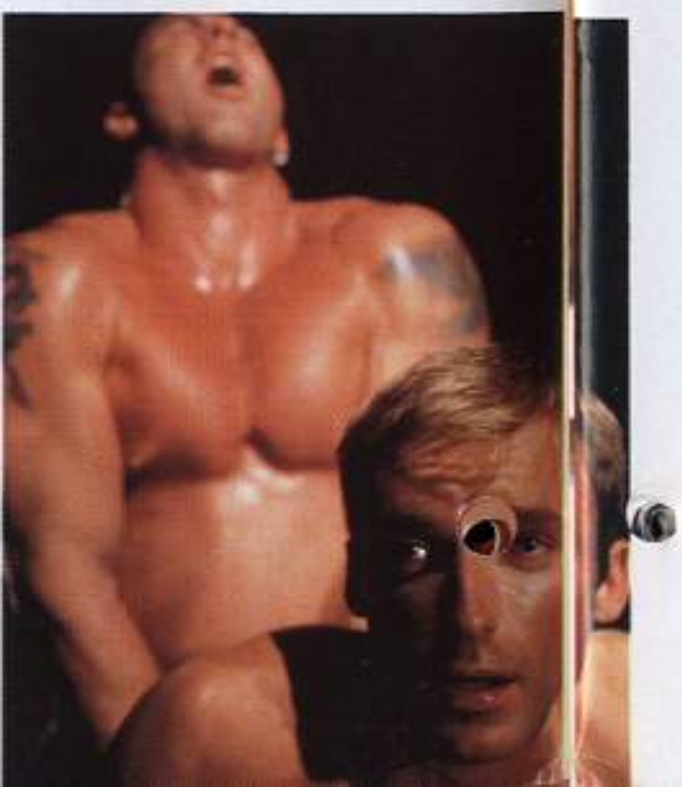
It's been rumored that Logan and Blake were actual real life neighbors in London at one time. Funny how they never got the chance to do the wild thing until they got to the States. Notice how LaRue and company make extensive use of side lighting in an attempt to reflect the style of the old time "posing strap" photographers as accurately as possible. "But no amount of behind the camera technique can impress more than the obvious love of the sex these two Brits bring to their roles."

The action is straight on.







This is certainly one of the hottest scenes we've seen this year. Appropriately, it is garnering a good deal of critical acclaim. Blake and Logan shoot hot cream out of their uncircumcised Euro-bangers while doing the deed in very Athletic Model Guild outfits. Hail Britannia!

The character of Bob is played by Mark West (opposite page, lower right) and is based on the highly respected Bruce of Los Angeles, whose work to this day is highly sought out by collectors. In our tale, Bob breaks down and has a J/O session with Randy Mixer, feels enormous regret about it, but finally gets together with him later when both admit they were more interested in each other personally than professionally.

house rules

Director John Rutherford and the fabulous production team at Falcon bring to the little screen another adventure in enraptured, unalloyed lust. A destitute Christian Fox (opposite page) hitchhikes to John Wood's cabin in the middle of nowhere. Wood hires the lad onto his crew and sends him off to a sparsely appointed room. We finally catch on to the fact that Wood is running a pastoral whorehouse with rather attractive johns. Clint Benedict meets up with Wood and arranges for new 'ho Fox to help his little nephew Marco Rossi come out of the closet. Fox makes soft and gentle love to Rossi, nudging him out of his macho shell. It's just like the old days when fathers would take their sons to the bordello to gain carnal knowledge. Well, not exactly, but it's just as sweet.

While Fox is dutifully begging for employment, Scott Baldwin and Zak Spears sex each other by the pool in one of the best scenes of the year. Zak's logic, upright sixty-nine position is quite a sight to behold.

ty me up

Ty Fox (opposite page) is delightfully loony in his debut vehicle for Catalina. He is beautiful in every sense of the word, but his charm really shines through his facial expressions and his sweet southern drawl. He's a grand dirty talker too. Co-star Scott Hardman is a bitchy porn star on the verge of retirement. Obsessive fan Fox tracks down Hardman's house, knocks him out cold and keeps his idol hostage in his own home. Fox gets more lax with his captive as the days progress, spending the time together laughing at bad porn movies. When Fox runs off to the drug store one day, Hardman's nosey mechanic discovers him and helps him escape, much to Fox's chagrin. Hardman returns to find a teary eyed Fox, and the two make whoopie as a symbol of their heavily dysfunctional love.

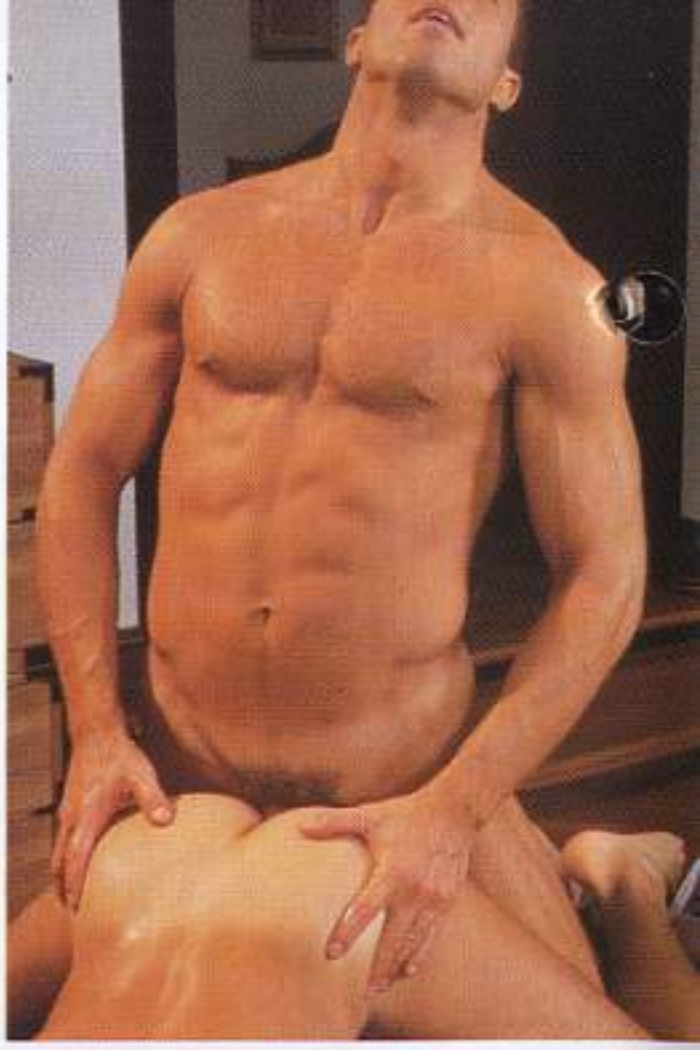
The press release states that this is "the first in an ongoing series of videos based on letters from HOT HOUSE viewers."This is Hot House's second feature release, directed by Steven Scarborough. Mark Baxter (above, top), making his return to video after three years, appears in a romantic scene with "lover" Jake Andrews. Baxter uncharacteristically puts in a few choice moments as a top, ranking him higher up the All Time Sex God ladder a few more rungs.

Dave Logan (opposite page) and Devyn Foster act out "Pent -Up Roommate Lust" according to the press release. What they really do is milk their skin-sheathed penises into a paroxysm of man-cream.



A Claude Jourdan (below right), Cliff Parker, and Sean Davis threeway opens the video. Representing Canada, Australia, and the States, this trio burns bright and screws hard in a most global kind of way.

Scandal sheet editor Dallas Taylor sends ace reporter Greg Ross (opposite page, lower left) out to get the dirt on a local sex-club so they can shut it down. Ross is reluctant, but goes anyway. He sees lots of hot action. In the end, Ross joins in a steamy session with Jason Broderick only to find the third party is none other than Taylor. Outraged at his editor's hypocrisy, Ross quits his job, but decides to collect his severance in a scorching three-way. After some hot sandwich sex, Taylor decides to practice more responsible journalism. Well, duh -- why would Taylor go to the sex club on the very night that he sent Ross there to get the dirt on the place? This Mustang production is definitely one of those times that prolific director Chi Chi LaRue's 100 monkeys at 100 typewriters have come up with Hamlet.

Here we find Tony Styles (opposite page, top) trying to attract the attention of Tony Hampton by lying on his back and sucking a rather fat dildo as if to get to the Tootsie Roll center in vain. Hampton does reward him, however, with a roaring good bang.

Lonnie Russo

driven to it

Directed by John Trenell for Studio 2000, Driven to It is the tale of one Christopher Cox, a cabbie who loves to pick up homos. They give him lots of fodder for tales "worth the telling." Some of his randier fares can't wait to get home so that they can consummate their lust. Horny rider Tim Barnett (above left) gives Cox a fleshy tip for his services. This is Studio 2000's seventh release. Lucky for us, they seem to keep getting better and better.

Cox is awfully accessible for a straight trade boy. He is cute and has a boner throughout, along with a fine acting job thrown in. As for Barnett, he is one helluva love muscle receptacle!

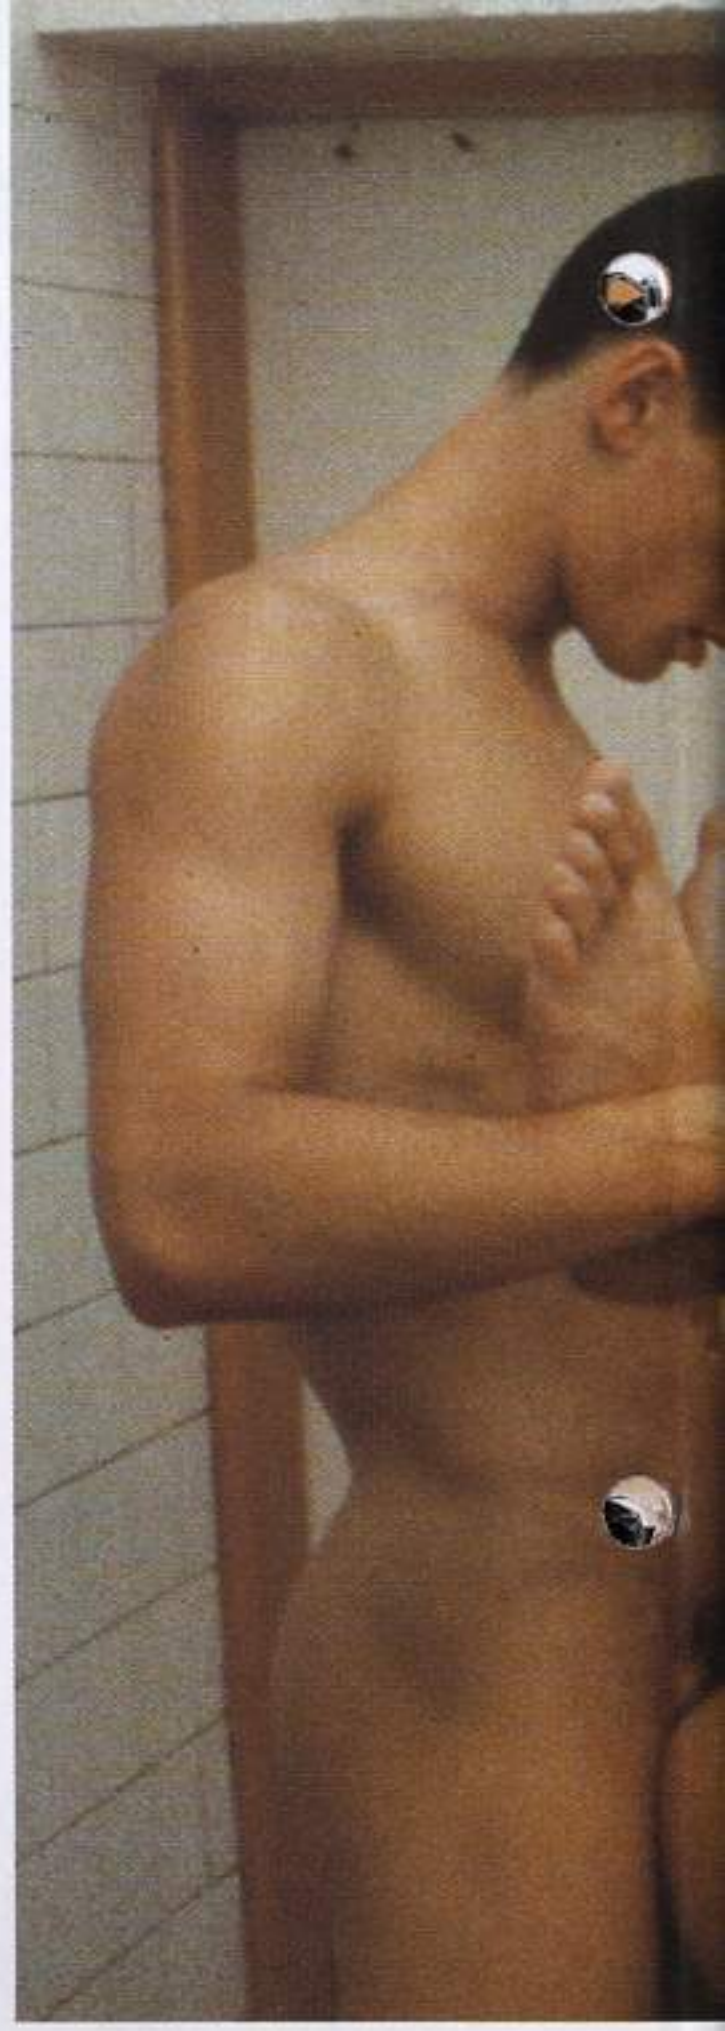
Director George DuRoy in only his third video has done what few other pornograpers have managed in entire careers -- created a place that is as sexy and seductive as the performers that inhabit it. We've seen this sauna once before -- with the pool drained of water in the final scene of Accidental Lovers. This time, it is the nexus of all the action and proves a constantly beckoning, romantic, presence. A young, lithe, dark-haired little Lolita (Johan Paulik) relates to us the tale of his "first year working as a towel boy in a large sauna", which is European for "bath house". He watches and yearns as a dozen or more incredibly beautiful young European lads cavort in various rooms of the facility. Eventually, a foursome develops in the main pool room after hours.



And all those iron curtain names -- they can be overwhelming!

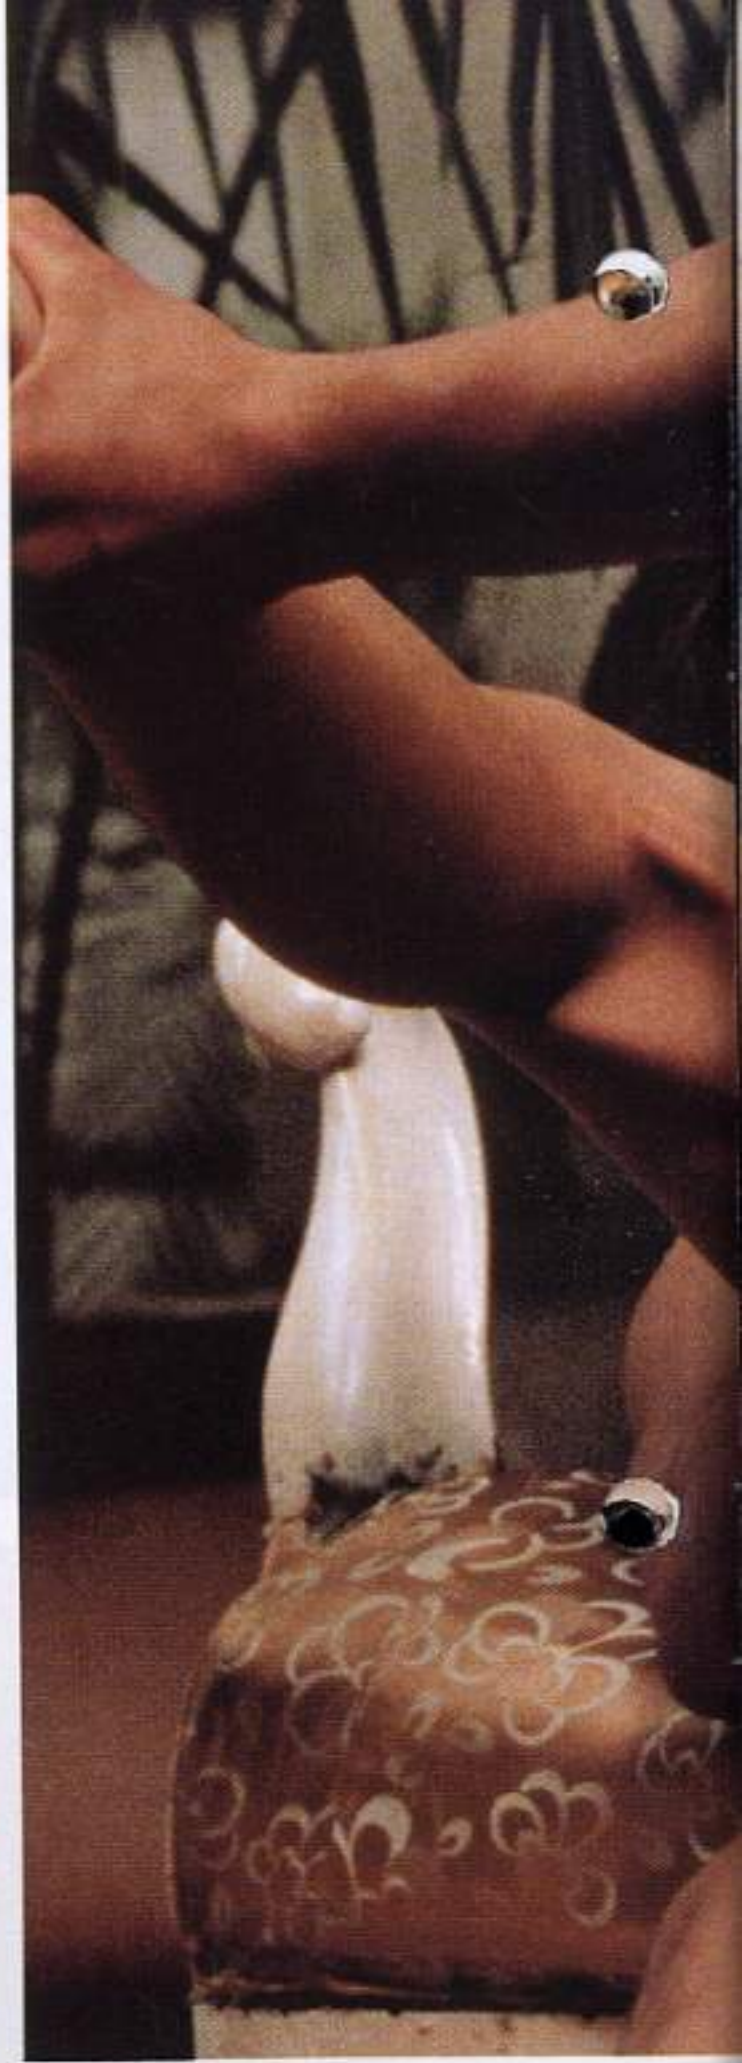
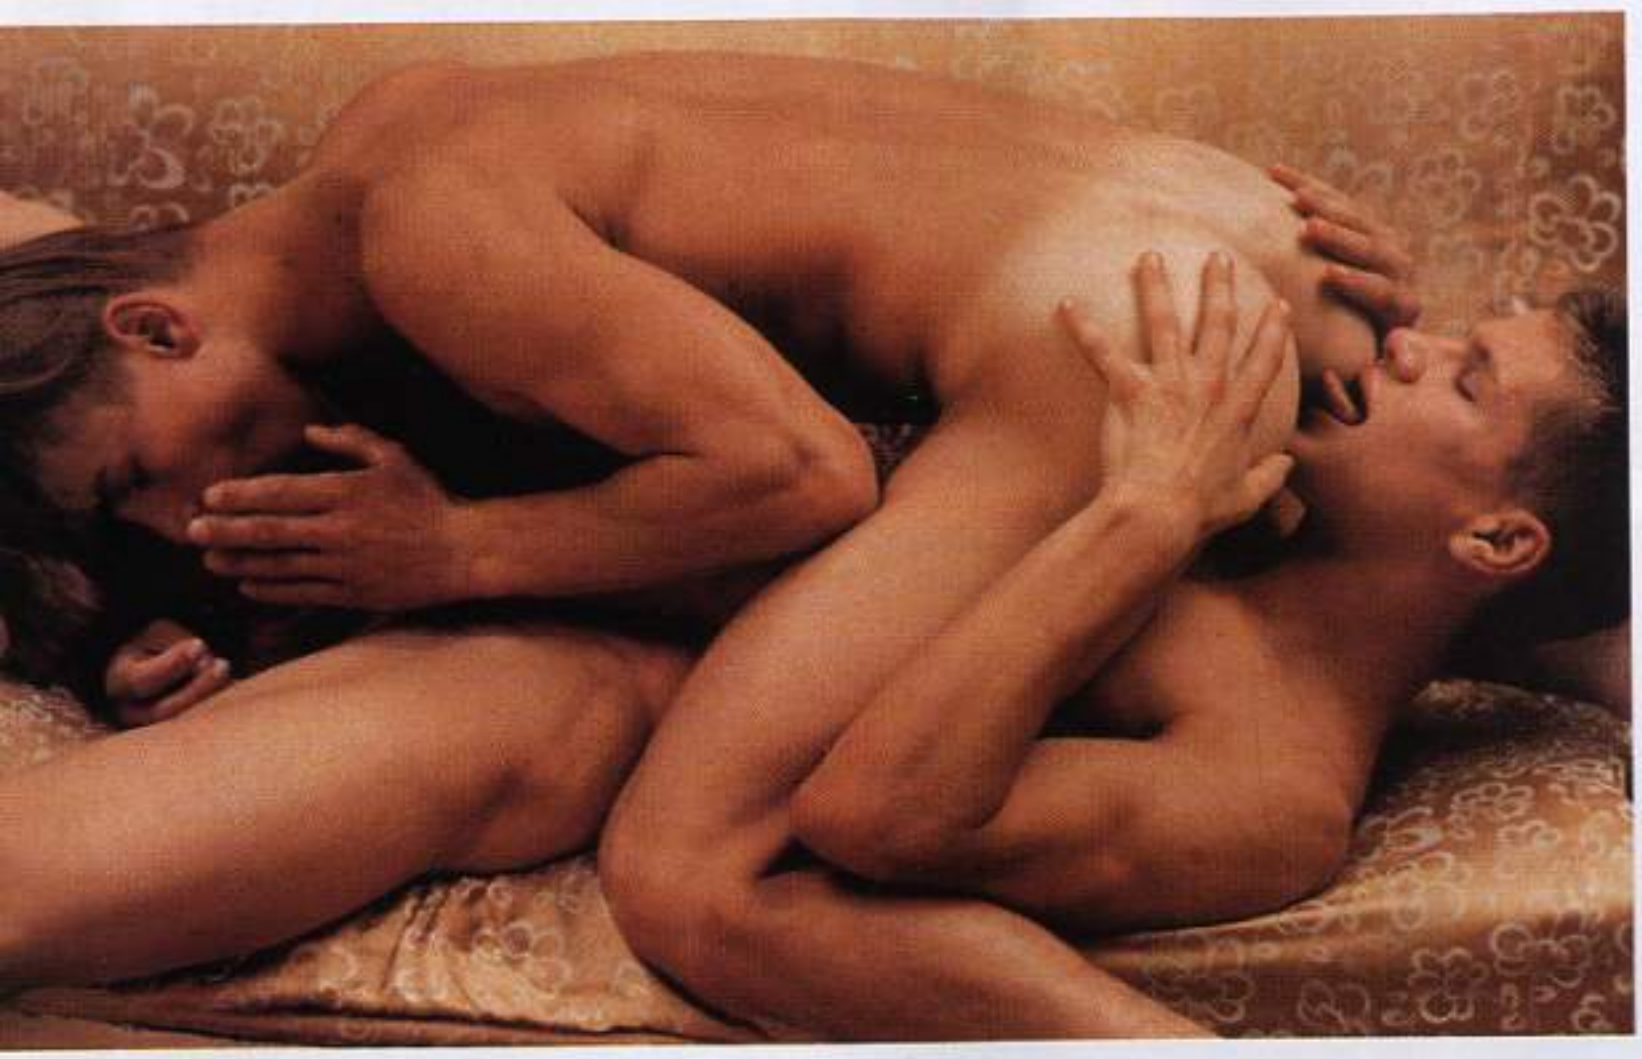
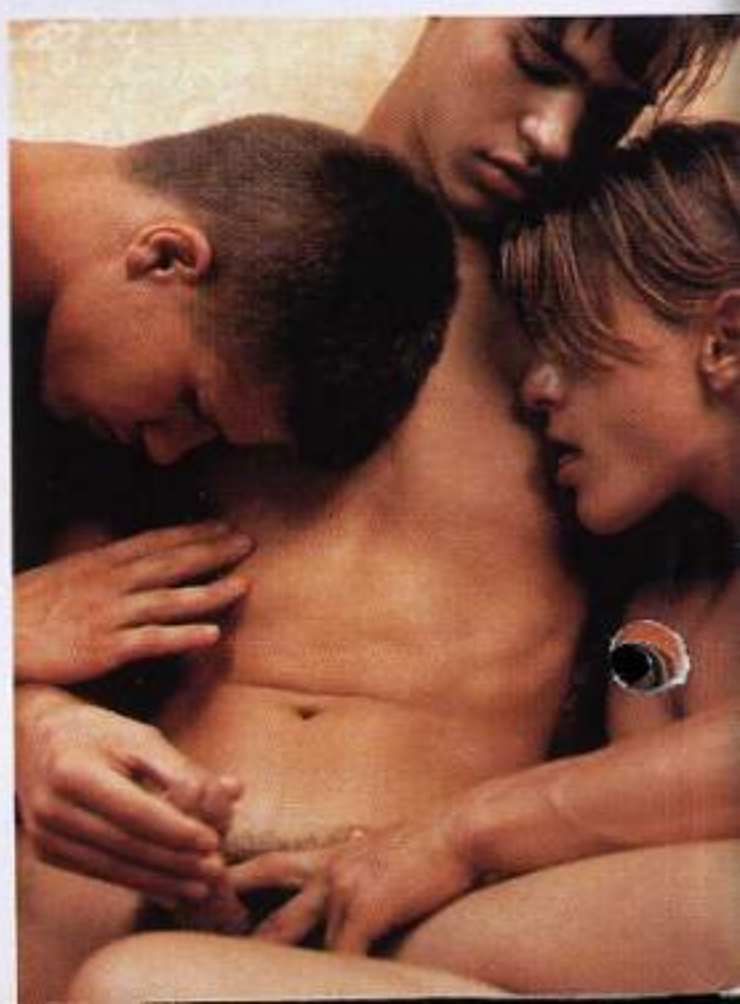
Not only is the sex just lovely to look at, but we're given nine entirely new and very dreamy lads to dream about. I've heard a few fans complain that they can't tell the boys apart at times -- that there is too much new talent to take in all at once.







A number of parallel duos and threeways lead to Paulik joining in the lovemaking of a pair of slightly older boys.

Dano Sulik (left) finds an amicable butt-hole and gets acquainted. Pavol Zurek (right) takes a pretty picture, as if he could take an unsightly one.

UNDE

A story of what goes on while making an erotic video that is so gleefully silly that it doesn't even pretend to be a documentary. Giving the performers titles like "The Writer", "The Director" and "The Production Assistant" and then titling the scenes things like "The Photo Shoot" and "The Casting" are the only nods director Gregory Marks (aka writer/producer Craig Andrew Ford) give to the actual film-making process in this summer release from HIS video. The real meat is just business-as-usual boys humping each other. But what humping! Tony Belmonte with head rag gets down and dirty with Devon Rexman (opposite page, left) .as do Randy Storm and Tanner Reeves (above).

The plot involves some pictures that Reeves takes of Storm (opposite page) that might fall into the wrong hands. And taking dirty pictures can only lead to one thing: cock sucking and "a cavalcade of butts."

The camera begins close on Rexman (immediate left) jerking himself off. The sight of his big dick shooting off is hot enough, but then when the camera pulls back to reveal that he was sucking on Belmonte's cock the whole time, the heat goes up even more.

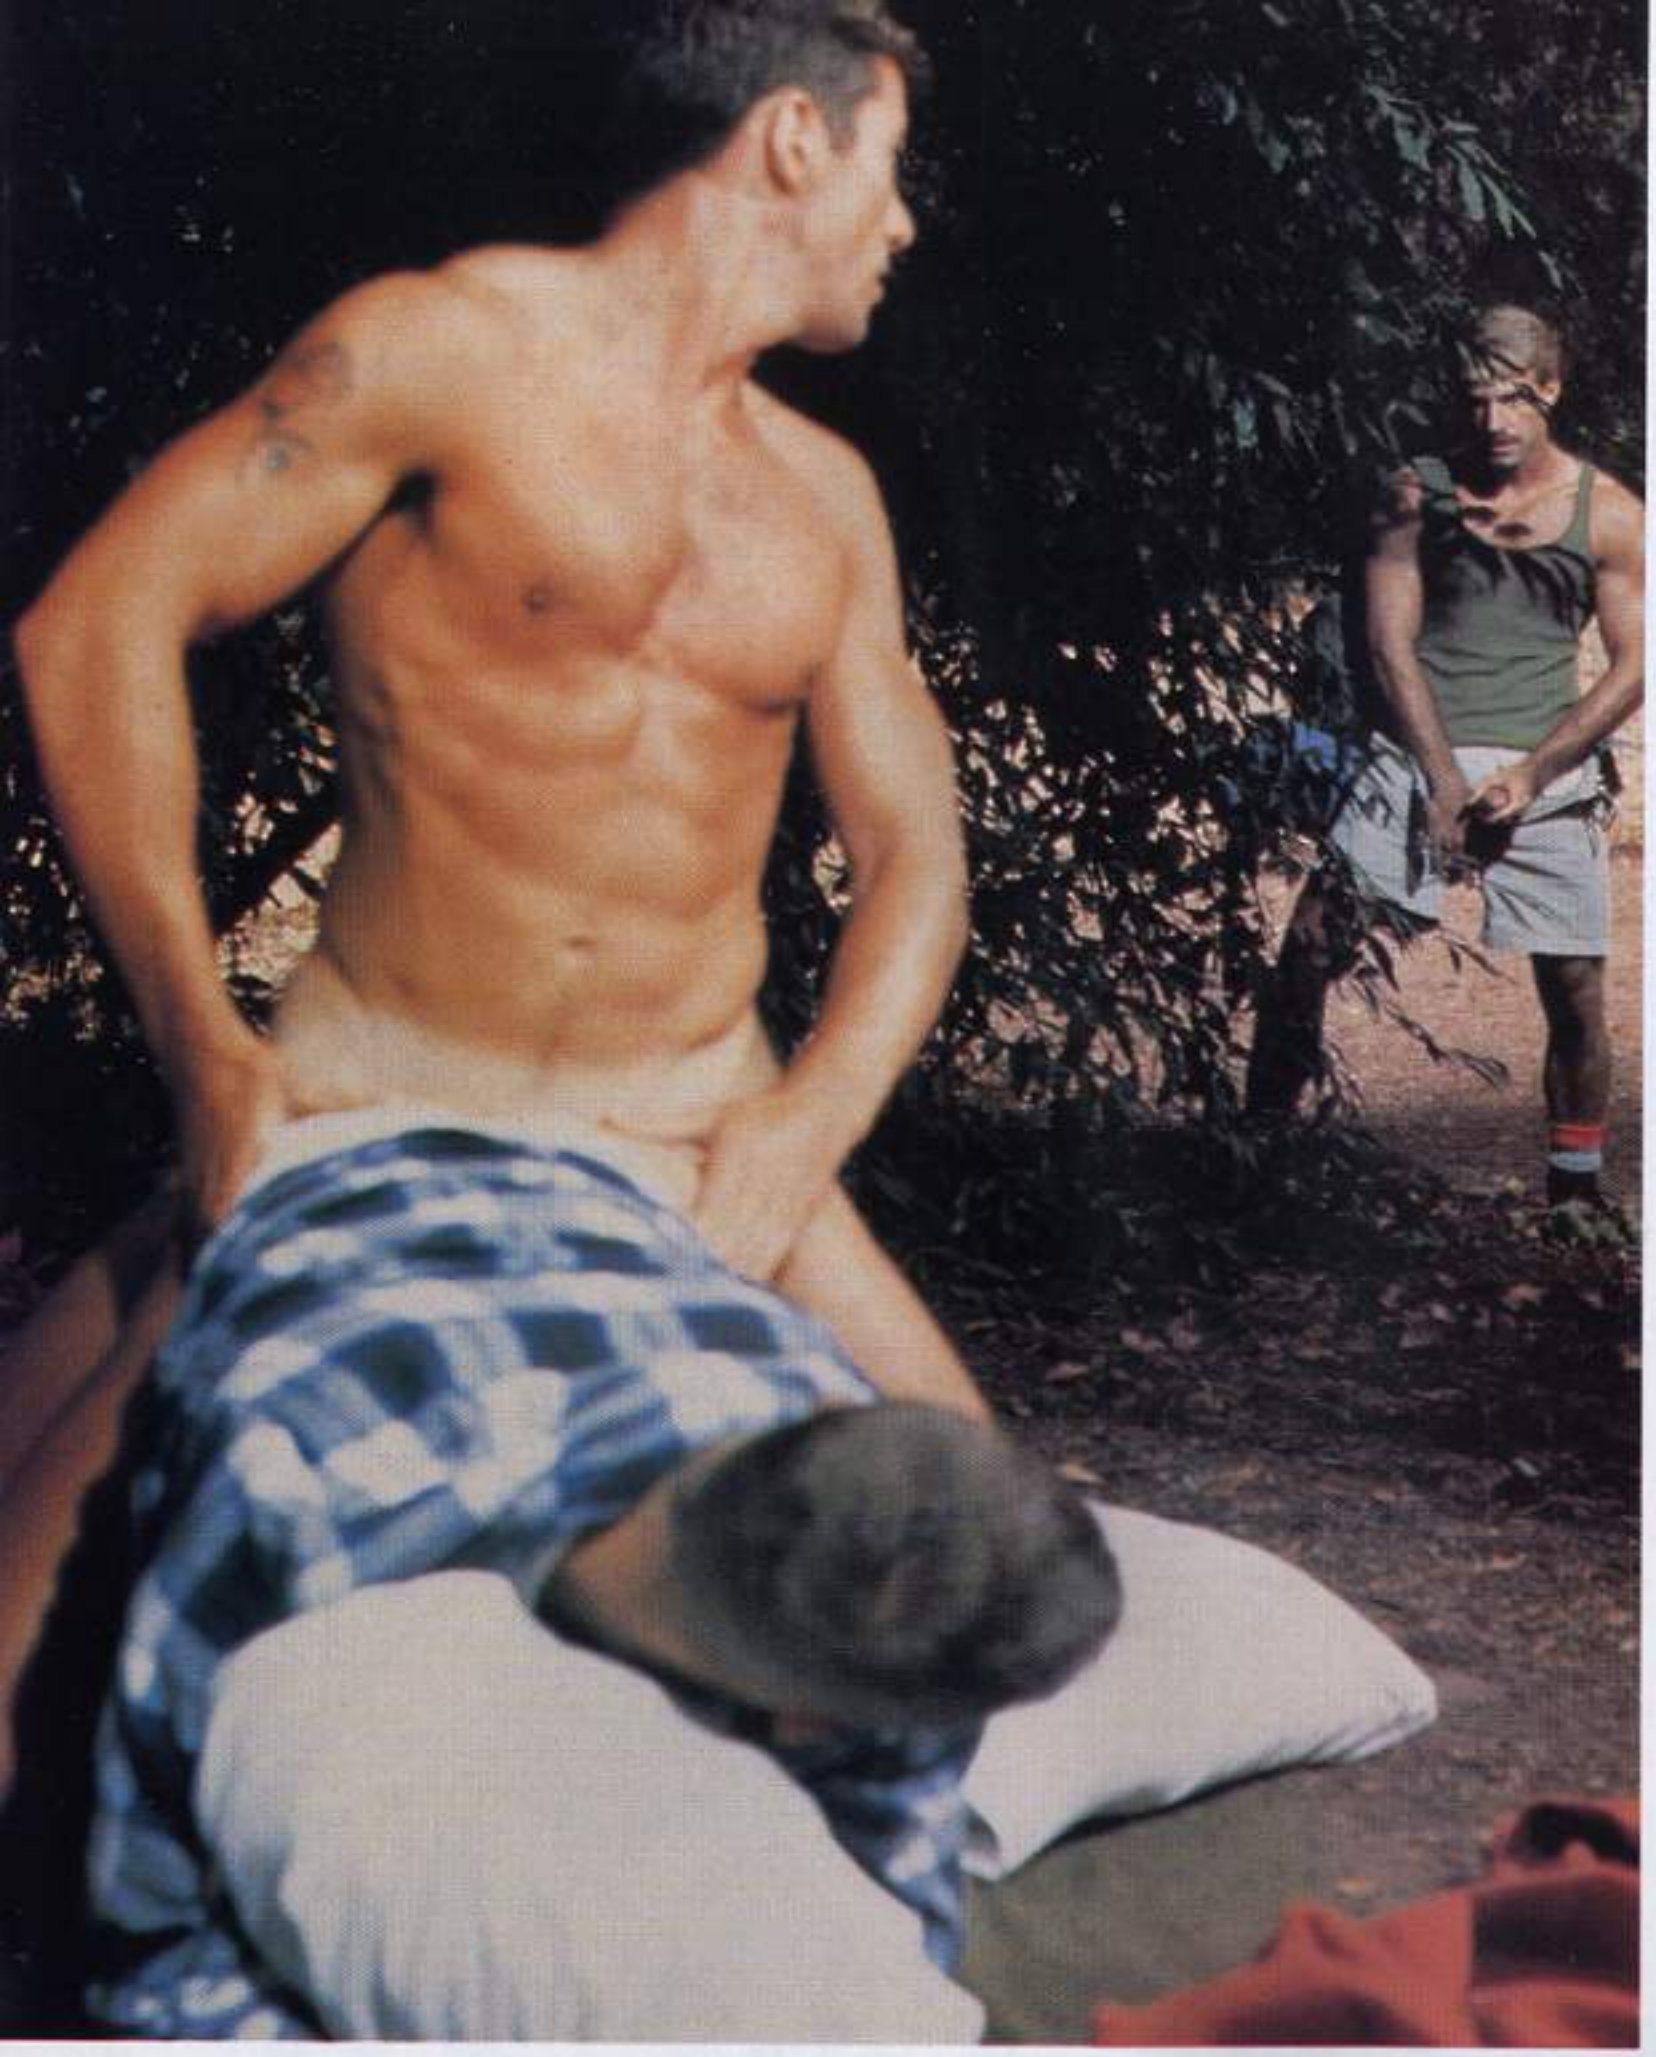
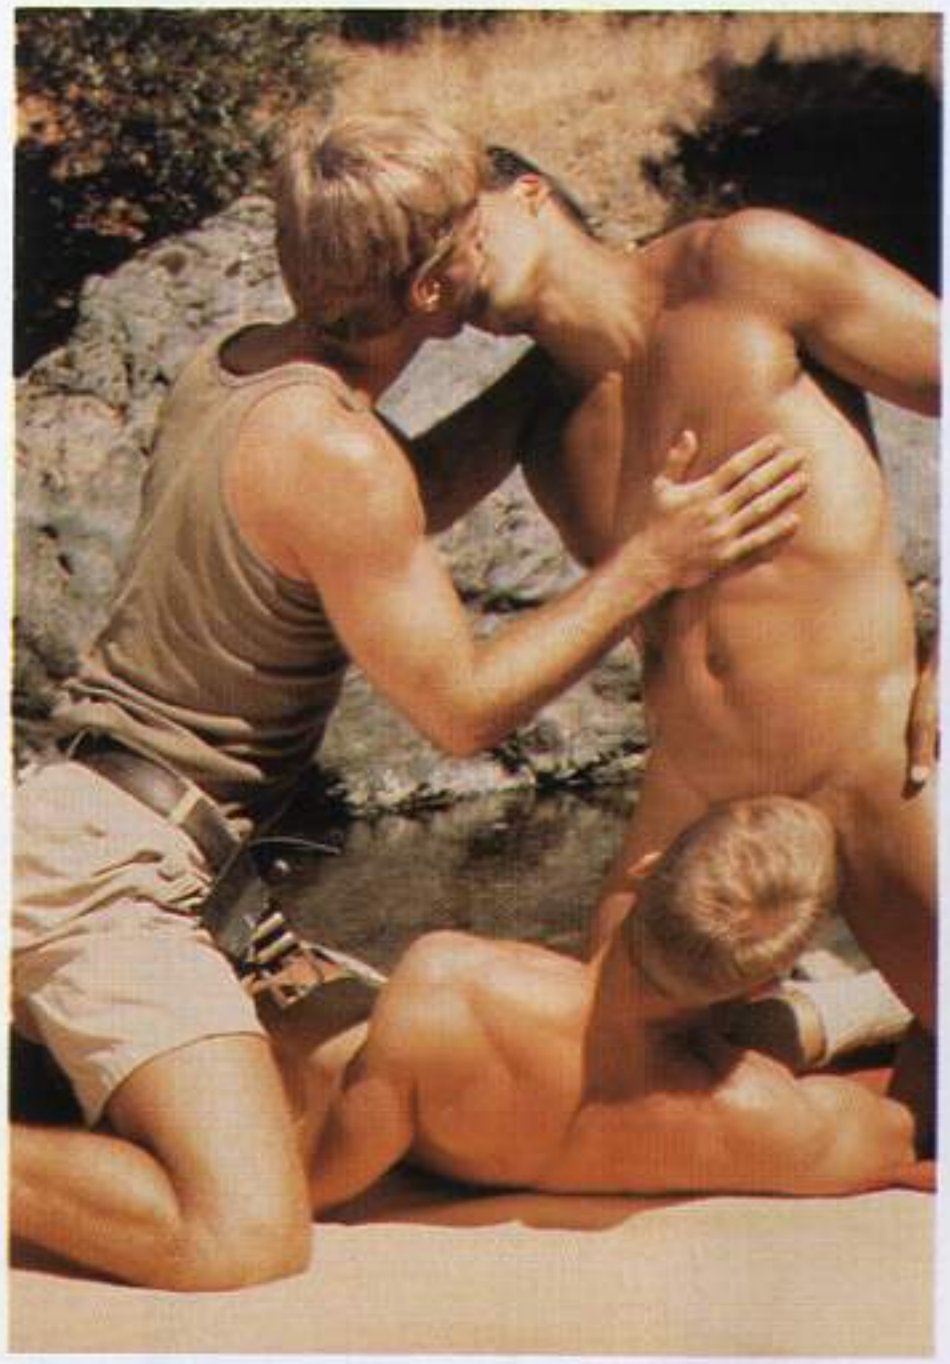
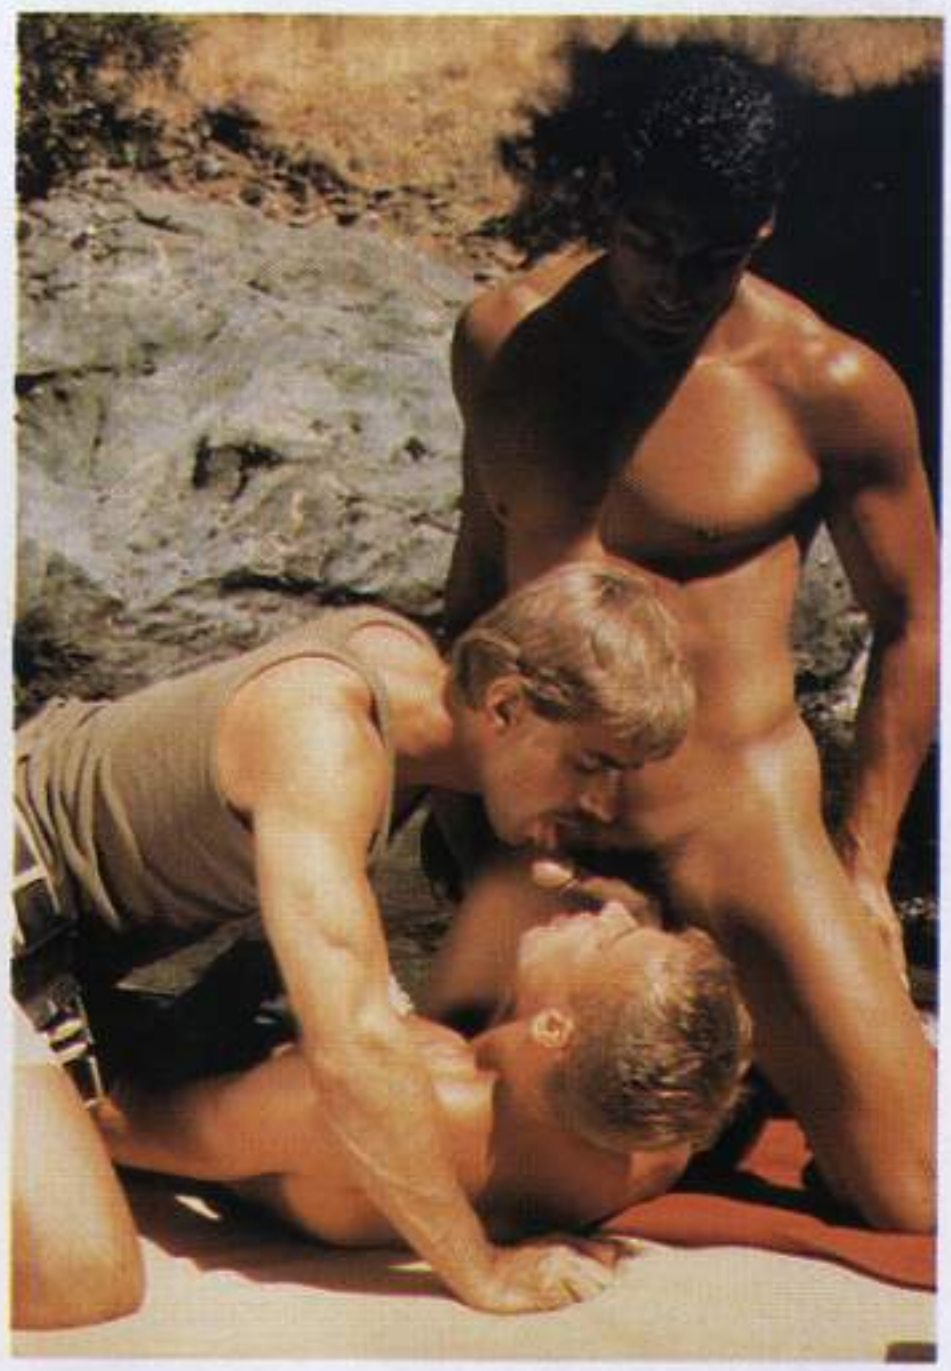
All of the action is shot outdoors and is terribly pretty in this Jocks release, directed by John Rutherford. Chase Hunter. (opposite page, left), here in his fourth video to date, heads for the Northern California woods with some sort of map and sets off on a trek. In this scene, Hunter stumbles upon Alex Kincaid mending a fence and "bu-fus" him soundly. The scene works because of Hunter's meat and sustained energy. Falcon's promo campaign for Breakaway included a live Sequoia Gigantia sapling sent to every video critic. Ours has already grown several inches, just like our cocks every time we see Chase in action.



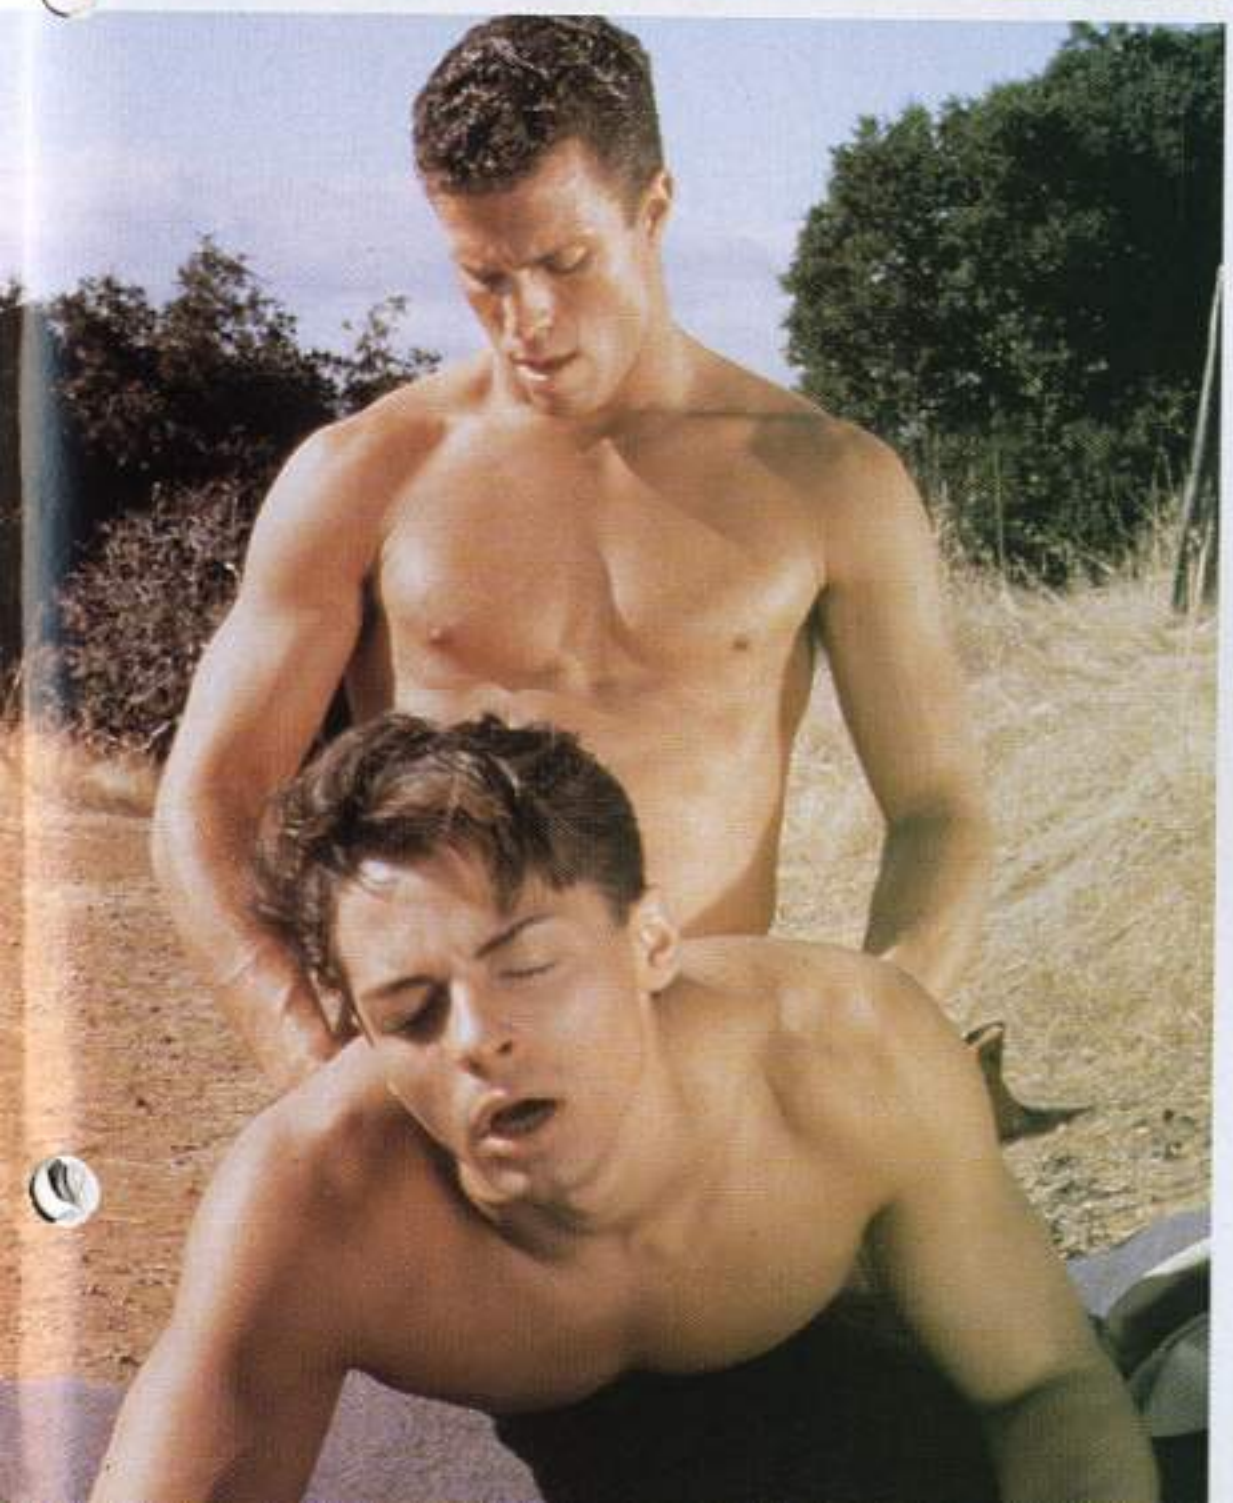
Joey Morgan and Aiden Shaw (opposite page, top) do each other at nighttime around their redwood ringed campsite. Hunter stumbles upon them and jacks off watching these two young veterans.





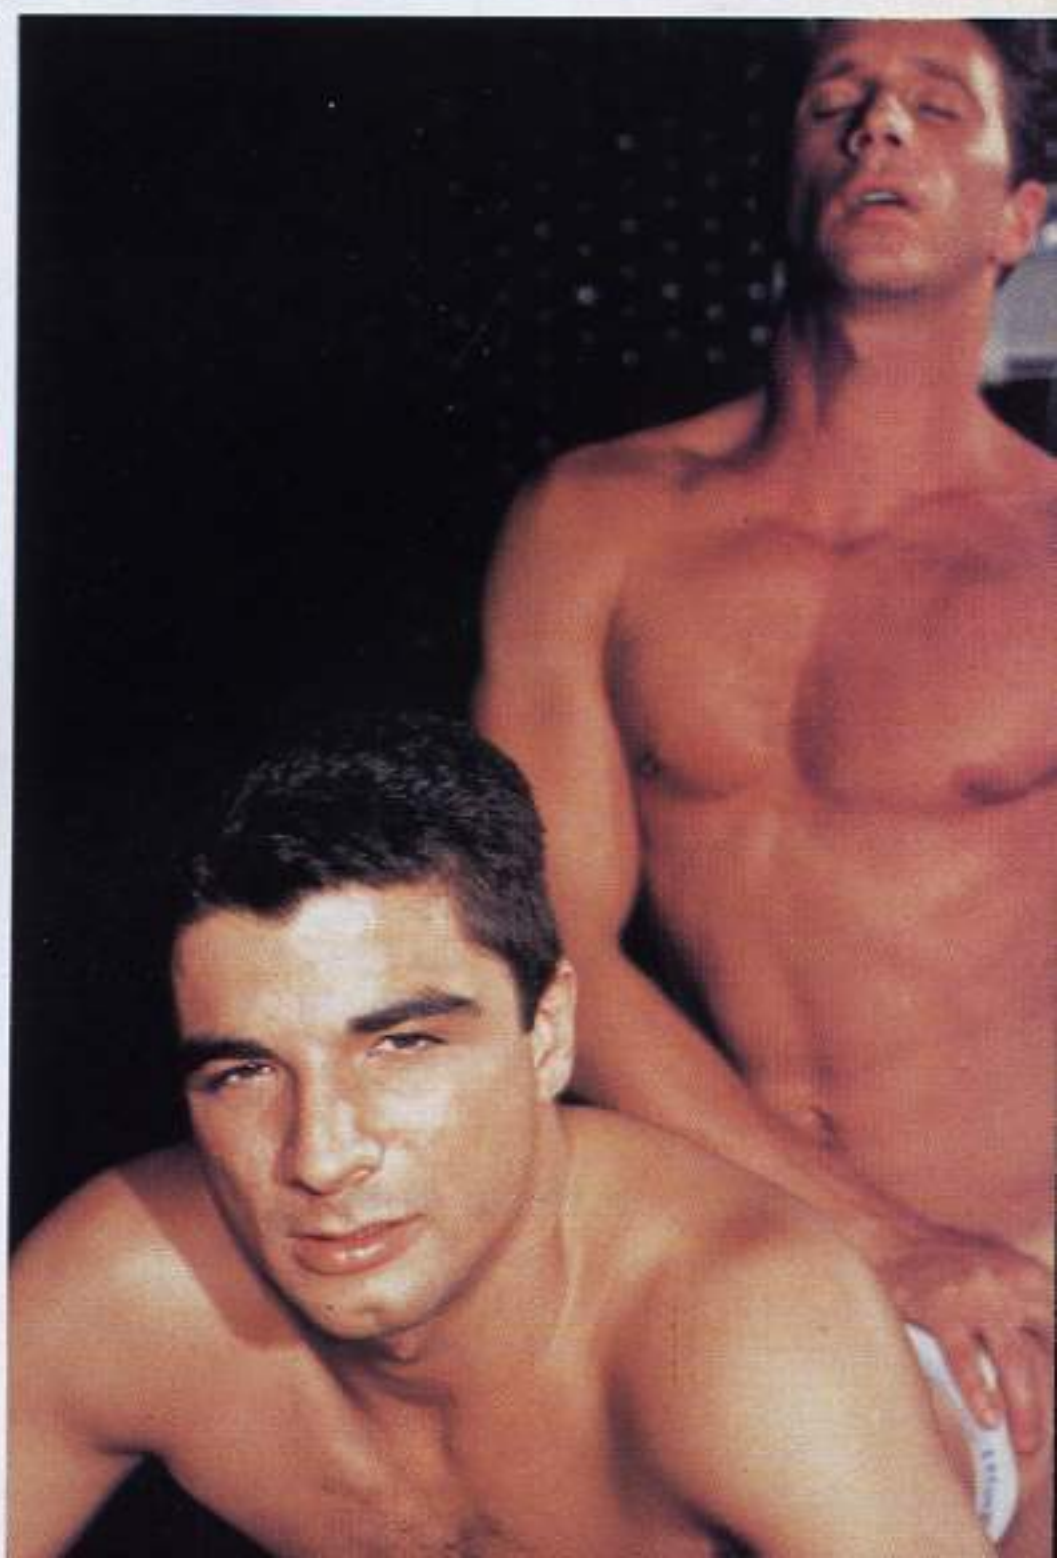
A surprisingly short-haired Dave Logan working over Max Grand (opposite page, top). Again as in scene two, Chase Hunter does his nature-boy routine and spies upon the principals. This time, he is asked to join in and ends up sitting on Logan's face while Grand bops the brit.

Jake Andrews, a forest range, comes upon young Vince Rockland, who's having some trouble with his truck. Rockland is overcome with desire for Andrew's picnic basket, and attempts a not very subtle seduction - Andrews objects, but is so impressed by his sincerity that he suddenly comes over all queer.



woody's

Directed by Michael Steel for Vision-A, we didn't quite have enough room to feature Woody's as fully as we would have liked, but we couldn't pass up on these shots. Robert Labatt and Carl Eric (opposite top) make nasty gestures in the leather shop. Sean Davis (opposite bottom) has designs on Francis Scott and does him in a sex shop. .



profile

Matt has successfully solved the age-old puzzle of how to survive in the porn biz and has apparently correctly deduced that the key is in changing your look after every production. We've seen him in two videos so far sporting two distinctly different hair colors. But you gotta admit he pulls (both) off really well. His debut in Posing Strap was particularly impressive because he looked precisely like some dude who would have stepped off a bus in Hollywood some sunny day back in 1960 and within the span of a day and a half found himself immortalized in the pages of "Male Figure".

Daddy perfect. Daddy dearest. Ray Ed has all of the right physical components and although we've only seen him pull his pud on a motorcycle with the aid of strategically placed screwdriver so far, we can barely contain ourselves in anticipation of seeing him in hardcore action. As a matter of fact, we demand it.

Whoops!

Some of you more detail oriented readers correctly spotted a goof we made in XXX Showcase Vol. 02 No. 05. The profile we ran of Newcomer "Scott Russell" on page 91 was misidentified. It was in fact a photo of Alan Stephenson. Here's another peek at Stephenson (courtesy of Studio 2000) so there can be no doubt about the identity of this incredible looker.

ADAM GAY VIDEO SOURCE DIRECTORY

This section lists the companies that produce and/or sell the titles which appear in this publication. Many offer direct mail order sales to individuals. Some publish catalogues and brochures that you can request. Many maintain a mailing list of customers and send them information on new releases on a regular basis. Look for the code "M.O." under the heading of "Business:" to identify companies that have an active mail order service. Still other companies distribute only to stores and retailers. These are indicated with the code "dist." for "distributor". The code "Prod." stands for "Produces" and you which companies actively create new titles.

If you wish to contact a company about a particular title you've seen profiled in our publication and are interested in making a purchase, go ahead and call them up or drop them a line. There are two important things to remember when writing to a gay porn video company: (1) Always include a signed statement attesting to your age. No company will send you information without a signed age statement in their files. Remembering to include one will save you a lot of time. (2) Mention that you read about their company or titles in the Adam Gay Video XXX Showcase.

For our readers outside North America, please remember that video formats vary from country to country. For instance, a VHS tape manufactured in the U.S. is encoded in the "NTSC" format, whereas most European tapes use the "PAL" format. These formats are not compatible. Special equipment is needed to view tapes recorded with a different signal.
