PORN STAR LONGEVITY

Here we have another issue of stars and another set of videos for you to peruse. You will see names you have seen before and you will see names you have never seen before. They come and the go. The big stars, those who command thousands for a day of shooting instead of hundreds, don't make as many movies because there aren't that many producers out there with the budgets to handle them. So we wade through the new stuff and hope to find another NEW star. I am waiting for another RYAN IDOL but one hasn't shown up for a long time. There are the JEFF STRYKER candidates like KURT STEFANO but the power behind him just isn't the same. He was hot in a few movies and then worked every chance he got and you see him on the boxes of many production companies. TANNER REEVES was never a superstar but he was sexy, hung, and could act. He was in a terrible accident a few years ago and is finally back.

I tried to get to the bottom of a budget with a few producers but they are never going to tell you the truth. When asked what kind of money a Ryan Idol gets they are not about to admit they spent as much as they probably did spend. Ryan isn't about to tell you. This brought me to the idea of this editorial, LONGEVITY. You make a few movies in a year or two and then you are an OLD name. No matter how many movies you make in a year you make less the next year and then less the third year if you are still around. Could be that we who watch the movies like seeing new faces, new asses, new cocks, new pecs. Is anyone going to admit that there really is monogamy in your mind?

We are all whores at heart and can't wait for the new faces. Because safe sex is mandatory to stay alive we look for the fantasy trips like jerking off to this magazines, one of our sister magazines, a video, a television show, a rented movie. Whatever it is we do have to admit that we look for something hot to get us off alone. The dildo sales are up like crazy because more people are staying home with their lube and their towel.

Is there a really big porn star today? TY FOX is back but I don't see a line waiting to rent his movie. The action in the video stores is NOT what it used to be. The string of FALCON PACS still gets rented and I am sure they always will. There are so many new movies on the racks but no one is that willing to rent them because the box doesn't tell the whole story and we have had a few years of being fooled by what's on the box not being what's in the box. So we are skeptical. Use this magazine as a help because you don't want to know how many packages of videos sent in for review were given away to a shelter. I am not sure they will be watched at the shelter they look so bad on the box you don't want to even open it.

At a time when the great porn stars were still making movies the competition was horrific. Many of them are not with us any more, unfortunately, and I think it is a fact that the pickings have shrunk in number. There aren't as many to choose from as there used to be and that is for sure. Video companies are spending a ton of money to find an ADAM HART, a RYAN IDOL, a TY FOX, a JEFF STRYKER and/or a KEN RYKER. They put ads in local gay rags all over the country and in Canada. We even had some model search ads in our magazines trying to find new faces to get you off. You wouldn't believe the mail I got and the pictures I got. There wasn't one I would give to a MICHAEL ZEN or a JOSH ELLIOT.

When a hot picture does turn up in the mail there are so many things that have to be realized it would stagger your imagination. Can they act? Can they get it up and keep it up with twelve people watching them in hot and bright lights? Can they do dialogue? Can they even read? What is their skin like? And how about the voice? So many things to worry about there had to be an alternative: EUROPE!

Chi Chi LaRue went off to Europe to make a movie for ALL WORDS VIDEO. Why not? Hot new flesh and blood and somewhere over there is the next PORN STAR we can talk about next year. Chi Chi...bring one back for me!

REVIEWED BY

I suppose if you are Vivid Video and you have a university it should be called Vivid U!

We have to talk about the initiation. All those young studs wanting to pledge a frat house or a frat brother. It's an exciting time of your life, that first semester of college. It is where everything is "grown-up." You are finally old enough to drink beer and suck cock or get it up the ass and like it. Kurt Stefano is definitely the star of the film. His asshole is on the screen more often than anyone else's body part. I think the entire fraternity gets to lick his ass at one time or another.

The name TANNER REEVES pops up on the box and his cock pops up in his room. Tanner Reeves has been absent for a very long time due to an unfortunate accident he had a few years ago. Nice to see him back and in such great shape. That cock obviously never got damaged. And her certainly manages to get it off.

There is a great bunch of guys being initiated and it becomes the greatest part of the film. Orgy Extraordinaire is what I call it and in a stairwell yet. There is a time when you wonder where in hell the camera was hiding because all of the action is so Vivid-ly captured. And yes, the pun was intended. The editing makes it real and not choppy even though you know it took hours and hours to film.

With my heart pumping and my hand pumping every minute Stefano was on the screen it was interesting to know that this ole reviewer could still get so stimulated. I think it was the new blond Jim Steel found for us all. You know they are all freshmen at heart and they take turns being a top and a bottom because during the first year at college who knows whether they are a bottom or a top. Hell, when I was a freshmen I thought it was a Gershwin song. How little we do know when in college the first year. But that's what this movie is all about. For you older guys this will bring back a lot of memories. For you younger guys you will get a few lessons from the pros and maybe some ideas. Who knows. But the final orgy (which is long enough to satisfy the softest cock and the hardest cock) is the main part of the movie and will never get fast forwarded on the vcr machine.

Take the train

I fucked him slowly at first, pumping his cock while I shoved in and out of him, feeling his balls against my belly. He held the bottle of poppers out to me, and when he had taken another hit, I knew he was about to come. I started to fuck him faster and harder, slamming into him, feeling his ass tighten around my cock, and all at once he groaned and lifted his hips.

By Quentin Frasier

I would never have taken the train if it hadn't been for a certain friend of mine. The trip was nearly twenty hours, and the thought of being in so small a space for so long was enough to convince me to pay the extra money for plan fare. But when I mentioned that I had to make the trip up to Chicago, my friend said, "Take the train," I was surprised because he sounded so insistent, when everyone else I knew had only complained about the trip. "Believe me," he said, giving me a look. "Take the train up." When I asked him why, he would only say that it was worth the trip, and though I pressed him on it, he wouldn't say more. I shook my head and told him he was crazy — but in the end I made reservations for the train.

And as soon as I got on in Charlottesville, I thought I would regret the decision. The coach section was nearly full, with children running up and down the aisle and someone playing a transistor radio. I found my seat and sat down on it, watching the hustling and bustling of people around the train station. A few minutes later, the train shuddered into motion, and a minute or two after that the conductor entered the car to check our tickets. I was still watching the view outside when the conductor appeared in the aisle and asked for my ticket. When looked up, I must have given myself away. The conductor slowly grinned. "Ticket?" he said again. I dug through my coat pocket, forgetting that I had put the ticket in my briefcase. Finally, I found the ticket and handed it to him, and while he looked it over, I checked him out. He was startlingly good looking, with dark curly hair and a brilliant smile. He was about my age, twenty-four, maybe a little older. When he handed the ticket back to me, he grinned again. "All set," he said "Club car's two cars back. Have a pleasant trip."

"Thanks," I said.

I followed him with my eyes as he moved down the aisle, and as he took the ticket of the woman behind me, he glanced up. For a moment, our eyes met, and then he looked back at the ticket — but slowly, that same grin appeared, and as he handed the ticket back to the woman, he glanced up at me again.

A minute later, he had left the car. I sat back and took some papers out of my briefcase. I was in my first year of law school, and I had brought along more than enough work to do. I started to read through some of the cases. But after ten minutes, I realized that I was moving my eyes over the pages without paying any attention to what I was reading, and so I put the book down and watched out the window for a little while. But even that didn't help; I was suddenly so restless. Finally, I got up to walk through the train. I walked forward first, through two coach cars to the sleeper car, and then back again, past my seat and toward the club car. In the last coach car, the young conductor I had seen was still checking tickets. He looked up as I entered the car — or glances met for a second again — and then he went back to the ticket. But as I passed him, instead of stepping forward to let me through, he stepped back, which meant I had to pass in front of him. And as I passed, I felt his hand close around my arm for a moment.

I went into the club car and ordered a drink, feeling my pulse beating just a little faster. I sat down at a table at the back of the car. A minute later, the conductor came in, looking around. He saw me, and hesitating only for a moment, he moved toward the back of the club car, taking a cigarette out of his pocket. He paused in the doorway beside my table to light it.

"How's it going?" he said, blowing out the smoke and looking across at me.

"All right," I said. "How about you?"

He shrugged his shoulders. "I'm making it," he said, and a trace of a grin appeared on his face. "How far is it you're going?"

"Chicago."

He nodded. "It's a long haul."

"For you, too, I guess."

"That's right," he said, taking another drag off the cigarette. When he looked back at me, there was something in his look. "So what do you do in Chicago?" he asked.

I told him that I was going home for a vacation.

"It's a hot town," he said, shaking his head, and then in one motion, he pulled the coat of his uniform open and slid his hand into his pants pocket. Glancing down, I saw what he had obviously meant for me to see, straining against the loose material of his pants.

When I looked up, he was grinning again. "Listen," he said. "I've got to get back. If you're going to be around here, things slow down once we get past Stanton."

"I'll be here," I told him.

"Then I'll catch you later," he said.

Half an hour later, he was back. I had polished off two drinks, and I was feeling good. "Hey, listen," he said, "I'm not supposed to sit around here. Regulations. But there's a place in the back if you want to..."

I was already on my feet.

We left the club car and moved through the coach sections to the sleeper car. "Sometimes there's a sleeper car free, which is great. Tonight they're all filled up, though."

"I guess this isn't the first time for you," I said.

He laughed. "I meet a lot of people on the train, I guess. It's one of the fringe benefits of the job."

Finally, we reached the baggage car, and by then, I could feel my cock starting to swell at the idea of making it like this. He unlocked the door, and as I passed, I felt his hand close around my crotch and he said, "You're hot, you know that?"

> He lifted Clancy's legs and, the next thing I knew, he was forcing his cock up Clancy's ass beside mine. He had to go slow...

"You're pretty nice yourself," I told him, catching another glimpse of that box of his packed into his pants. I could hardly wait to get a good look at what he had inside.

He locked the door, and when he came up to me, he was grinning again. He reached out and started to run his hand over my cock, which was hard now, and I started to unfasten the front of his pants. In a few quick motions, I had his cock out. I closed my hand around it — or at least as far as my hand would close around it — and when I looked up at him, it was me that was grinning. I think he had the most beautiful piece of meat I had ever seen — fat and long and hot. Meanwhile, he had slid his hand inside my pants and was already starting to work my prick.

A minute later, he was clearing a place in the corner and putting down some packing blankets. We stripped the rest of the way. I could hardly keep my eyes off that cock of his, and a minute later, I was running my hand along the thick shaft of it. We were lying in opposite directions on the packing blankets, and he had already started to go down on me. But I didn't want to rush things. I lifted his heavy balls in my hand and then slowly, taking the head of his magnificent cock in my mouth, I went down on him inch by inch.

After a minute or two, I heard him say, "Hold on," and then I watched him stand up and go back into another corner. He came back with a large shaving kit. He knelt down and opened it. "What do you like?" he said.

"Shit," I said, shaking my head. He had everything— poppers, dope, K-Y, toys, cock rings, the works.

"Take your pick."

So I took out the K-Y and the poppers, and while I greased the two of us up, he opened the poppers and we both had a hit. He lay back against one of the mail sacks, and I moved over him, lifting his legs. He took my cock in his hand and guided me forward. I began to shove into him, and when I felt the head of my cock slip into him, I heard him groan a little, rolling his head back and closing his eyes.

I fucked him slowly at first, pumping his cock while I shoved in and out of him, feeling his balls against my belly. He held the bottle of poppers out to me, and when he had taken another hit, I knew he was about to come. I started to fuck him faster and harder, slamming into him, feeling his ass tighten around my cock, and all at once he groaned and lifted his hips. Just the sight of his fat cock spraying white hot cum all over the two of us was enough, and I shoved all the way in and started pumping my own load into him.

A few minutes later, when he was pulling on his uniform again, I said, "I don't believe this happened."

"Shit," he said, starting to laugh. "We haven't even made Charleston yet.

His name was Clancy, he told me, and he had been with the railroads for about five years. He had taken a job as a porter one summer, he said, and when he saw the possibilities, he decided to stay on. It wasn't bad work, he said. I guessed it wasn't.

When we reached Charleston, I was back in the club car. Outside of Charleston, it turned out that one of the sleeper car reservations had been canceled. Clancy came through and told me to meet him there — number nine. When I got there, I found the shaving kit with Clancy's things already on the bed.

Well, we made it once again before we hit Cincinnati, and one last time on the way to Chicago, and when I stepped off the train in Union Station, Clancy was standing on the platform grinning. "I hope you had a pleasant trip," he said.

I nodded, smiling. "Very nice."

"Maybe I'll see you later," he said, sliding his hand in one quick motion over his crotch.

"Don't worry," I said. "You will."

And he did. Three weeks later, I was rushing to meet the train for the trip back to school and there was Clancy standing on the platform grinning.

"All right!" he said. "I was hoping I'd see you."

"How are you doing?" I asked.

"Just fine. Hey listen. I think we might have some real crazy action if you're interested."

"Sure I'm interested," I said. "What's the story?"

"This guy I know just got on a few minutes ago. He's going to Cincy. He's hot. We could get into something, if you want," Clancy was just grinning and grinning.

"Where is this guy?"

"He's in the club car, I think. I told him that I'd meet him back there."

"Maybe I'll check him out."

"All right," Clancy said. "He's hot."

I put my things down in the seat and went straight back to the club car. Clancy was right. Sitting at one of the tables was a dark-haired guy in jeans and a work shirt. He was tall and rugged-looking, with a thick dark moustache and very sharp, penetrating eyes. Just as I looked up, he looked up, and for a second he seemed to nod. I smiled. He moved forward in the seat, sliding his hand along his leg and over his crotch, and then he grinned.

I bought a drink and asked him if I could join him, and as soon as I sat down he said, "I guess you know Clancy."

His name was Michael, and every time he looked at me, I felt my cock grow a little harder. "This should be a hot trip," he said, shaking his head.'

I just nodded, catching a glimpse of his cock outlined under his jeans, and by the time Clancy came around, I thought I was ready to explode right there.

We went back to the baggage car, Michael going first. Clancy was behind me, and at one point, he leaned over and said, "You won't believe this guy."

"He's hot," I said.

"Just wait," Clancy said.

Well none of us had to wait very long. We got into the baggage car, and while Clancy made a place in the corner, Michael started to strip down. I watched him pull his shirt off and slide his pants down. His cock was already half hard, and at the sight of it, I felt my own cock start to swell. I stripped down too, and then, while Clancy got his bag of toys out of the corner and pulled his clothes off, Michael and I got started. He had a tight, muscular body, with a line of dark hair running up his belly and spreading across his chest, and his cock was thick and uncut. In a second, we were both hard, and Michael was running his hand up and down my prick, sucking my balls, while I went down on him..

When Clancy joined us, he started greasing his cock up and then grabbed my ass. Michael shifted around so that he was up on his knees in front of me, and I was on my knees, still sucking him off. Clancy was behind me, running his hand over my balls, and the next thing I knew that fat cock of his was pressing against my ass. Just a I took Michael's prick all the way down, I felt Clancy shove into me. And then, while I sucked Michael's cock, Clancy dragged his prick in and out of my ass, shoving as deep as he could and then pulling it out until I felt the muscles of my ass close over the thick head of it. And when he was about to come, he pulled almost all the way out, and I heard him groan, and then he rammed that tool of his all the way up me, pumping his load the whole way up.

Afterwards, Clancy said he wanted to try something with the two of us. He had me lie down on my back, and then he and Michael took turns going down on me for a minute or two, until I was o hard I was about to shoot. And then Clancy straddled me, greased up my prick, and, squatting over me, took it slowly up his ass. His back was to me, and when he lay back, his shoulders were against my chest. I reached around and took his balls and his cock in my hands. Meanwhile, Michael was kneeling between my legs. He lifted Clancy's legs and, the next thing I knew, he was forcing his cock up Clancy's ass beside mine. He had to go slow, but after a minute I felt his cock shove all the way in.

And then we both began to fuck Clancy. Michael was shoving his cock in and out, running it up against mine, and then I was doing the fucking, slamming up against Clancy while Michael stayed still. And finally we were both fucking Clancy, moving in and out together. Clancy was hard again, and I was working his prick in my hand while Michael and I fucked him harder and faster. I could feel Michael's heavy balls slamming up against Clancy's ass. We were all about to come. I felt Clancy's cock stiffen, and I heard him groan. Michael started to whisper, "Oh fuck, oh fuck," and when I felt Clancy's cock tighten up. I let myself go. Michael shot at the same moment, the tow of us ramming together up Clancy's ass while he shot his load over the three of us.

By the time we made Cincinnati, the three of us had used just about everything Clancy had in that bag of his. Michael had to get off then, and while Clancy went to help people off and then collect tickets, I walked with Michael back to his seat. I wondered what sort of business he had in Cincinnati, and when I asked him, he laughed. "No, man." he said. "I've got a few friends I stay with when I'm here. But I go for the ride. Shit, I'll be on the train going home tomorrow."

I could hardly believe it. But after I had said goodbye to Michael and stood watching for a few minutes as the train moved out of Cincinnati. I wandered back to the club car. And as I pushed the door open I saw Clancy there, leaning over a table where two very hot looking guys were sitting. When Clancy saw me he raised his hand and grinned, and both of these guys looked up. "These guys are from Cincy," Clancy said. "Going to Chicago."

I nodded hello to them.

Clancy lifted his shoulders. "Well, look, why don't the three of you wander back if you want and get started. I'll join you in a few minutes, okay?"

Looking at these two hot guys who were already getting up to go to the baggage car for a little action. I thought about what Michael had said, and suddenly it didn't sound so far-fetched.

I took the train whenever I made that trip up to Chicago — three or four times a year. And every time it was the same, with lots of variations. Once, in fact, Clancy wasn't even on the train, but when I walked into the club car, there was Michael — and the two of us managed to make together in the washroom, and then, a little later, in an unoccupied sleeper compartment. And once, I remember, there were three of us in the baggage compartment by the time we hit Charleston, and some old friend of Clancy's got on there to make it four, and though we lost two people in Cincy, we gained another three on the way to Chicago.

But the train ride that I remember best took place the Christmas of my last year in law school. The next summer, I would be graduated and, by coincidence, would be working at a law firm in Chicago. But at that point, getting on the train, I only knew that I had just finished one hell of a set of exams, and I was ready for some hot action. And of course, Clancy was there, grinning from the platform as I boarded the train. "How are you doing, sport?" he said.

"I'm doing fine," I told him. "What's up?"

"Listen, I've got this friend..."

His friend's name was Steve, and when Clancy asked me if I might be interested in a little action, I just smiled.

"Okay," Clancy said. "Let met set it up."

I went to my seat, and a few minutes later, Clancy came by.

"I talked to Steve," he said. "He's cool. I told him you might go back there. He's in the club car."

"Okay," I said.

I left my things and walked back to the club car. Steve was sitting at one of the tables with a drink. He looked up and smiled. I didn't even bother with a pretext. "You're Steve, I guess," I said.

"And you're David?"

We shook hands. He was my height, almost six feet, with reddish brown hair and a moustache, and almost classically chiseled features. His voice was rich and full of assurance I sat down with him and we had a drink together. He taught at a university in Chicago, he told me. He had been to Washington to do some research. We talked a little about Washington — the places we knew there — and then Clancy came through the club car.

"Listen," he said. "I'm going to be held up for a little while. I can let you guys into the baggage car if you want."

I looked at Steve. He smiled and lifted his shoulders looking at me. "Sure," he said.

Clancy looked at the two of us and shook his head. "Shit. I hate to miss out on this action."

We followed him through the train to the baggage car, and after he had opened the door for us, he said, "You're on your own, boys. Don't do anything I wouldn't do."

"I think we can manage," Steve said.

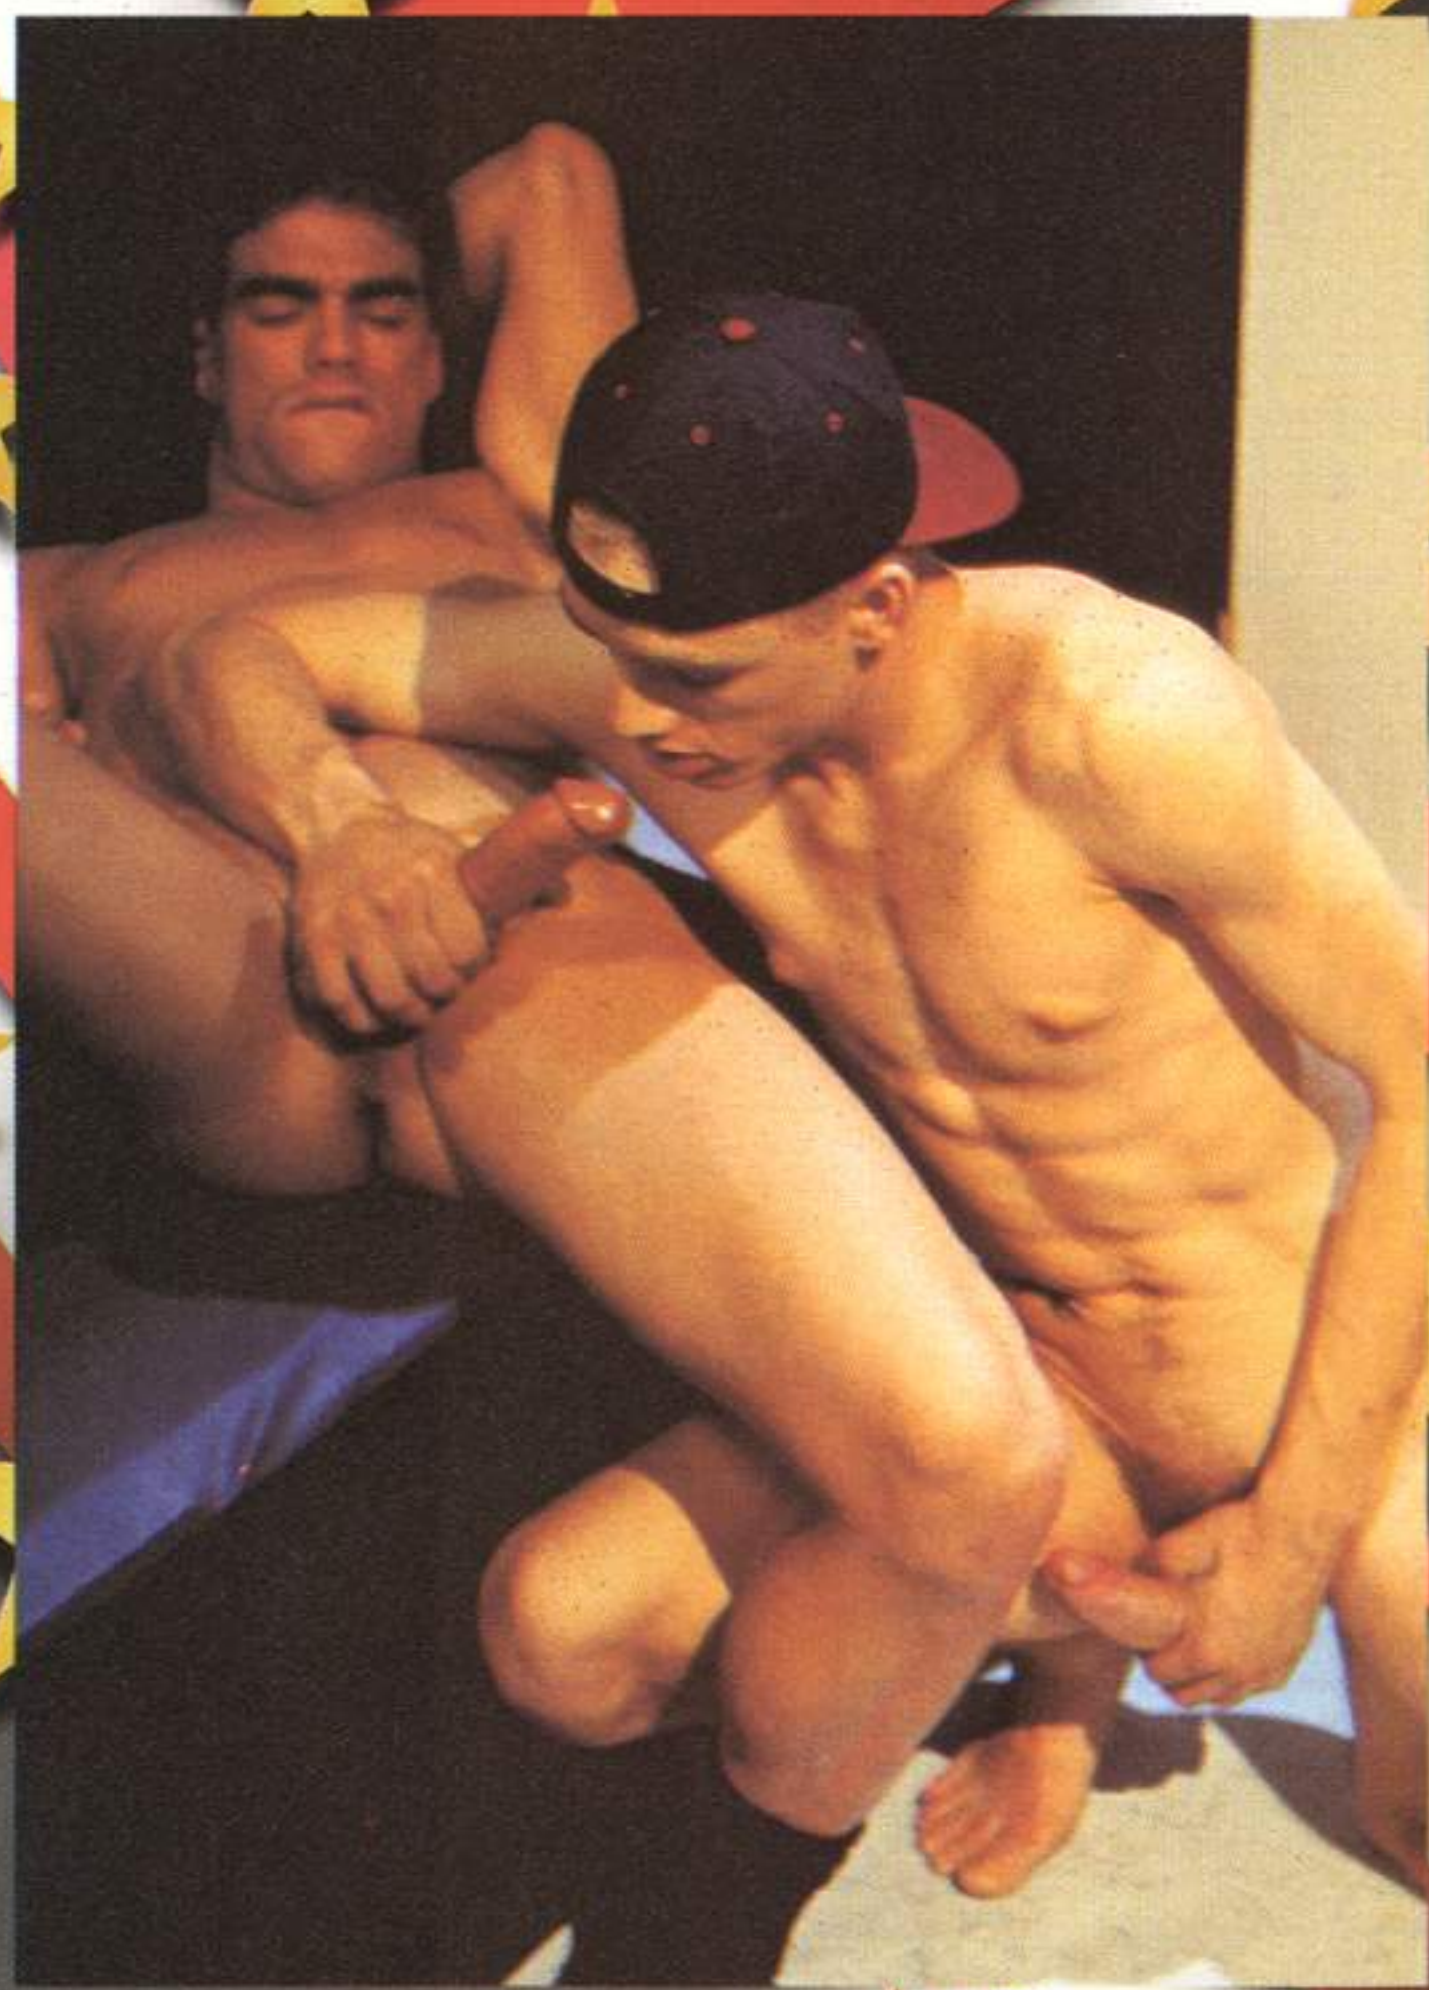
DANE MADDEN



Spring turns into Summer and all across the land hot young studs hit the road in search of the big adventure. Buds pop up on bare branches to announce the coming of Spring. Likewise, these studs pop up on roadways everywhere to announce their coming in Summer. Just in time to celebrate the coming season, STUDIO 2000 is releasing The Hitchhiker, a light and frisky tale of one very hot young hitchhiker, the man who picks him up and just what each go through before they work it out—and then work it in and out.

Young Dane Hodges (played sexpertly by Kristian Brooks, a hot young newcomer from San Diego) is not your typical, everyday hitchhiker.

Hardly. When was the last time that any of us saw a hitchhiker working on a laptop computer. It's no wonder Greg (Doug Perry of Forced Entry fame) picks him up. He's too curious a sight to pass. Besides he's young, he's smooth, he's attractive and he makes Greg very horny. Greg quickly discovers, however, that his pickup has an agenda of his own and he seems to be more into teasing Greg than into pleasing him. It seems that Dane is an aspiring writer and what Maupin did for the city, Dane wants to do for the road. And, like The Canterbury Tales told hundreds of years ago along the roadway, Dane's tales take a very definite bawdy turn. In fact, they are downright peter provoking.

Dane's first tale is about two college buddies whose dates left them unsatisfied while their drinking left them free enough to do something about it. Hardly an original idea but Dane is young yet. Anyway, who really cares when, in The Hitchhiker, the two guys are played by the ultimate Lovebug, Mike Lofton and Jay Anthony (another newcomer—also a fresh, copious and tasty comer, thank you). It's pretty obvious what these guys really want when they get up to their room and undress. As their repressed and throbbing cocks spring out of their briefs, we know that someone is about to have a very good time. And if you guess who we mean, you won't be wrong. Mike has a wonderful time. Jay has a wonderful time. And you may well have a number of wonderful times.

Greg's dick is hard at it, demanding some release, but Greg himself is becoming a bit intrigued with his 20th Century Scheherezade and encourages Dane to tell the tale of Dane's older brother and his new brother-in-law at the wedding reception. The tale is told from the Men's Room point of view. Again, maybe the idea ain't too original but at least it's a classy bathroom instead of some worn-out school or bus stop tearoom. And the cast is a class act also. Sweet, adorable and perpetually horny has to be Peter Wilder. Young, deliciously desirable, and ever-hard has to be Jeff White. What a performer Jeff is! And what a hot little actor. These two guys deliver climaxes that are worth the price of admission in themselves.

It's dusk and Greg drops off his storyteller as he prepares to stop for the night.

Then he realizes that he's become addicted to his little charmer. In the motel room, Greg begs Dane for one more story and Dane relates the story of the sailor and the punker in the back room of an adult bookstore. When sailor Ricky Price drags Mason Walker's big, thick, juicy, uncut and very hard dick out of his pants, we soon know that Rick is proud to be in the service-and that he's a serviceman of the first order. When Mason discovers that Ricky comes fully packed, he claims his right to serve also. Watching these two young studs certainly makes you all wet about attending service—with its marvelous give and take.

Back in the motel room, when Greg suggests that some quality playtime might be in order, Dane puts his computer aside, thanks Greg for the place to sleep and rolls over and drops off. Still seeking some action, Greg turns to the computer and seeks out the story of a couple of backpackers-newcomer Peter Andersson and Jon Davis, as they celebrate getting back to nature in the sunshine, the clean mountain air, and the tall grass of the great outdoors. Peter has a piece to reckon with. And Jon reckons he has the perfect place for it.

I bet your curious and want more. Easy. Hitchhike to the nearest video store.

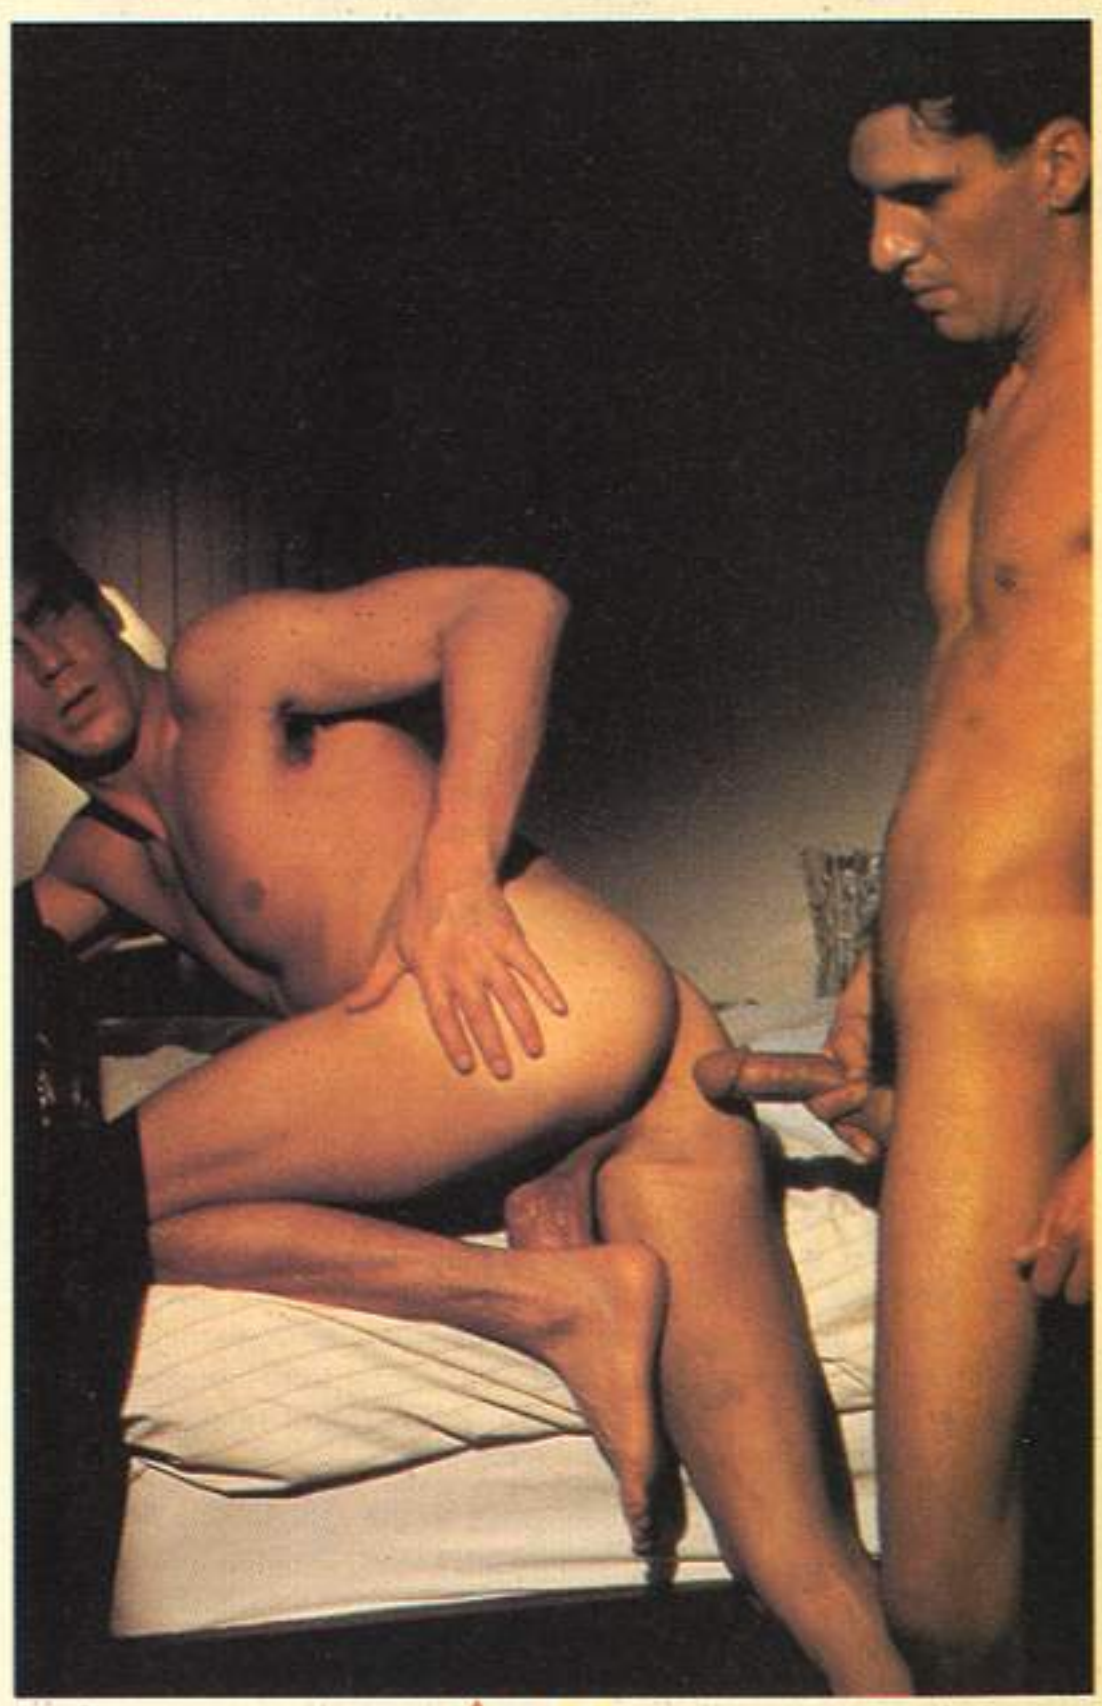
REVIEWED BY

RAD



In Intimate Relations Dave Russell plays a young lawyer who has recently won national fame winning a controversial, sensational case. Currently he is the darling of the media and, while that has some wonderful rewards.. . . it also makes a gay man very vulnerable. Something that might never have been a problem before, is suddenly the center of some not very nice people's attention. In the 70's gay was good. Now gay is gay and good is good and often the two do not necessarily meet. Naive, ingenuous and straightforward without being straight, Dave suddenly finds himself caught in a web of ugly minds, vicious emotions, violent action and mean-spirited sexuality that threatens to destroy everything that he values. . . his gayness, his career, his family and his community. Surrounded by gay deceivers, Dave is forced to cope with an oh-so-concerned new boyfriend who is out to blackmail him; a long lost brother who is a pretender and not beyond hiring a hit man when his disguise is threatened and a murderer who has Dave's real bother captured in sexual bondage.

Hardly the stuff of adult movies, you say? Well, it seems to work pretty well here as four of the hottest sex scenes that the MINOTAUR cameras have yet captured are heightened and made more enthralling and arousing by the sharp-edged knife that lies just below the surface ready to plunge into flesh and destroy the beauty and the ecstasy.

In the opening scene, blond David York makes himself readily available to his new lover as Dave's thick and handsome cock explores David's juicy holes. Gentle and tender at the start, these two men's lovemaking soon takes on a ferocious insistence that is almost frightening in its demand for release that culminates in virtual geysers of hot cum.

Meanwhile Matt Easton as Dave's real brother, is the subject of Scott Daniels' humiliating but powerful sexual demands. Matt willingly and hungrily answers all of Scott's cold and impersonal demands creating heat and passion within Scott in spite of the situation. And when these two drive each other over the top, they all but soak the entire room, As these two sex hungry studs groan and shout out their passion, Drew Andrews, as the fake brother, gets off alone in the living room as he listens to the intense language of lust.

Later, Drew is visited by Brad King who has been sent from Dave to check up on his brother. Brad checks Drew out in just about every way anyone might wish. The sofa turns into the seat of burning passion as these two perpetually horny sex studs give each other (and the breathless viewer) the very best of what they have to offer (and the viewer a super vision of just how sexually powerful and shattering good video sex can be). And it all reaches a peak with juicy, thick, powerful and plentiful releases of man's favorite flavor.

What happens next we leave to the storyteller. After what is done is done, and some time later, Dave is back on keel again. In fact he is writing a book about it all and sharing all of his secrets with the world. When his editor, Jeff Dalton, suggests that this might not be the wisest course of action, we see that people will be true to themselves in spite of it all. If the naive, ingenuous and upfront survive it is the grace of the gods rather than any learning from the hell that they go through. Better shrug it off, and watch as Dave and Jeff decide they have better things to do than argue over a manuscript. And they do it. They do it very well indeed. Without sacrifice in the passion and intensity department, these two make sex that is tender and considerate at the same time that it is filled with driven lust and unleashed hyperactive libidos. Again the moment of truth is filled with copious showers of potent mancum.

As we viewed this show we were struck by how this show reminded us of those wonderful shows of the 70's—the dicks are eternally hard, the men are very much into the sex, and the climaxes are rich and fulsome--like they used to be but so rarely anymore.

Minotaur just gets better and better and Intimate Relations will stimulate you to new highs, tap your resources and drain your reserves time and time again.

"I'm sure you can," Clancy said.

And after he had closed the door, Steve and I looked at one another. "This is wild, isn't it?" I said.

"How long have you ..." Steve began to ask.

"Just about three years, I guess. What about you?"

"I met Clancy on my last trip to Washington. So this is my third time."

I nodded. "Actually, a friend of mine talked me into taking the train the first time," I told him.

Steve laughed. "I'm not sure we should let this thing get around. They might bust this train."

"A morals charge, right?" I said, and we both laughed. And then we just stood there looking at one another, not knowing what to say. Finally, Steve reached out and put his hands on my hips. "Well, listen," he said.

"Yeah," I said, grinning. "Why don't we."

We did, and all I can say is that, for all the good times I had had on that trip, that one was the est. It seemed like only a few minutes later when the door of the baggage car opened and Clancy appeared I the doorway. "You guys look like you've had it," he said.

Steve laughed and said, "A few times, actually."

"I didn't figure you guys were going to wait for me," Clancy said. "SO anyway, I brought a friend along."

Clancy's friend appeared in the doorway. He was tall and dark-haired, not exactly handsome, but very hot. And while Steve and I sat back, too tired to do anything else, we watched them make it in the other corner. The action was so hot that, before it was over, Steve and I were ready for more. We made it together once more before we reached Chicago.

When we got off the train, Steve gave me address, and I ended up spending a lot of time with him during the vacation. In fact, it was Steve who drove me to the station when it was time for me to go back. We said goodbye to one another on the station platform, talking about plans to get together, if we could, some time during my last semester. Clancy had already waved to us from the window of the train, grinning and nodding, and the station men were loading the baggage.

"Well, I guess I better get going," I finally said.

Steve put his hands on my hips just the way he had that first time in the baggage car. "Listen, call me when you get in, okay? Just so I know you got back all right."

"I will." I said. Steve seemed to want to ask me something else, and finally he said, "I guess you'll be going back there," nodding toward the baggage car. I shrugged my shoulders and then he laughed. "It's crazy, I know, but I almost wish you wouldn't," he said.

I shook my head. "The crazy thing is that I don't even want to."

Steve smiled. "Give me a call," he said.

It was a quiet trip back for me. Clancy found me sitting up in the club car, and he sat down with me for a minute. But he didn't want to be seen siting there for too long. He told me that there was a free compartment in the sleeper car if I wanted it. "Listen," I started to say, thinking that I should tell him — but he seemed to know already.

"Don't worry. I sort of figured something like that was going on when I saw the two of you on the platform back there."

I shrugged my shoulders. "You know how it is," I said.

"I think it's great," he said. "I really do."

I didn't know what to say.

Clancy nodded. "Well come on. Why don't you take that compartment. If I can get free, I'll come around and we can talk."

"Sure," I said.

"Maybe I can even dig up a little dope."

"Great."

So we smoked and talked a little when Clancy could get free — and I realized that it was really the first time we had had a chance to talk since the very first train rid I had taken up to Chicago. I don't even remember what we talked about, except that I talked a lot about Steve, and at one point, Clancy said that he really hoped things would work out for us.

I didn't know what to say I finally said that you never knew when something like this would come around.

Clancy shook his head. "That's not for me, though. I mean, I think that's great for you guys, but I'm not ready to settle down. I'm on the road too much. I see too many people."

And when he poked his head into the compartment after he had stopped in Charleston, it was just to say that he'd be back in a little while — he had met someone getting on the train who looked interesting.

But I did see him before I got off the train. He came around to say goodbye, and while the train slowed, going into the station, we stood between cars, talking about some of the crazy times we had had. And then we were there. Clancy jumped down, and I followed. "Well, listen," he said. "I guess I'll see you later."

"Sure," I said. "You take it easy."

"I always do." He was grinning just the way he had the first time I met him. "And listen — if you know any hot guys traveling this way, tell them to take the train, okay?"

...we watched them make it in the other corner. The action was so hot that, before it was over, Steve and I were ready for...

"Sure," I said.

A minute later I was walking through the station, listening to the sound of the train pulling away.

That was almost a year ago. I graduated from law school in the spring, and in the summer, I began work at a law firm in Chicago. Steve had flown down to visit me twice — flown down because there was so little time that either of us could spare — and when I went up to Chicago for the last time, it was behind the wheel of a rented truck, with all my things packed in the back.

But a few weeks ago, a friend of mine, finishing up his last year at the law school, called to say he had to come up to Chicago for an interview — and I told him to take the train. "Jesus, that trip is such a long one," he said.

I said, "It's worth the trip, believe me."

Steve and I went together to the station to meet him. At first I thought he must have missed the train, when everyone seemed to have gotten off the train and he wasn't there. But then I saw him climbing down the steps, and a moment later, I saw Clancy's face appear from the steps of the train.. He waved once, grinning, and then he disappeared - so quickly that I wasn't even sure, afterwards, that I had seen him. While I made introductions and we three talked on the platform, the train began to move out of the station, and though I looked back — and I knew Steve did also — neither of us saw Clancy.

We walked to the car, and started for home. It wasn't until we were almost halfway home that my friend finally shook his head and said, "Listen, I've got to tell you guys. The craziest thing happened on the train back there."

And though both of us figured that we pretty well knew the story — at least the basic outlines of it — we let him go on.

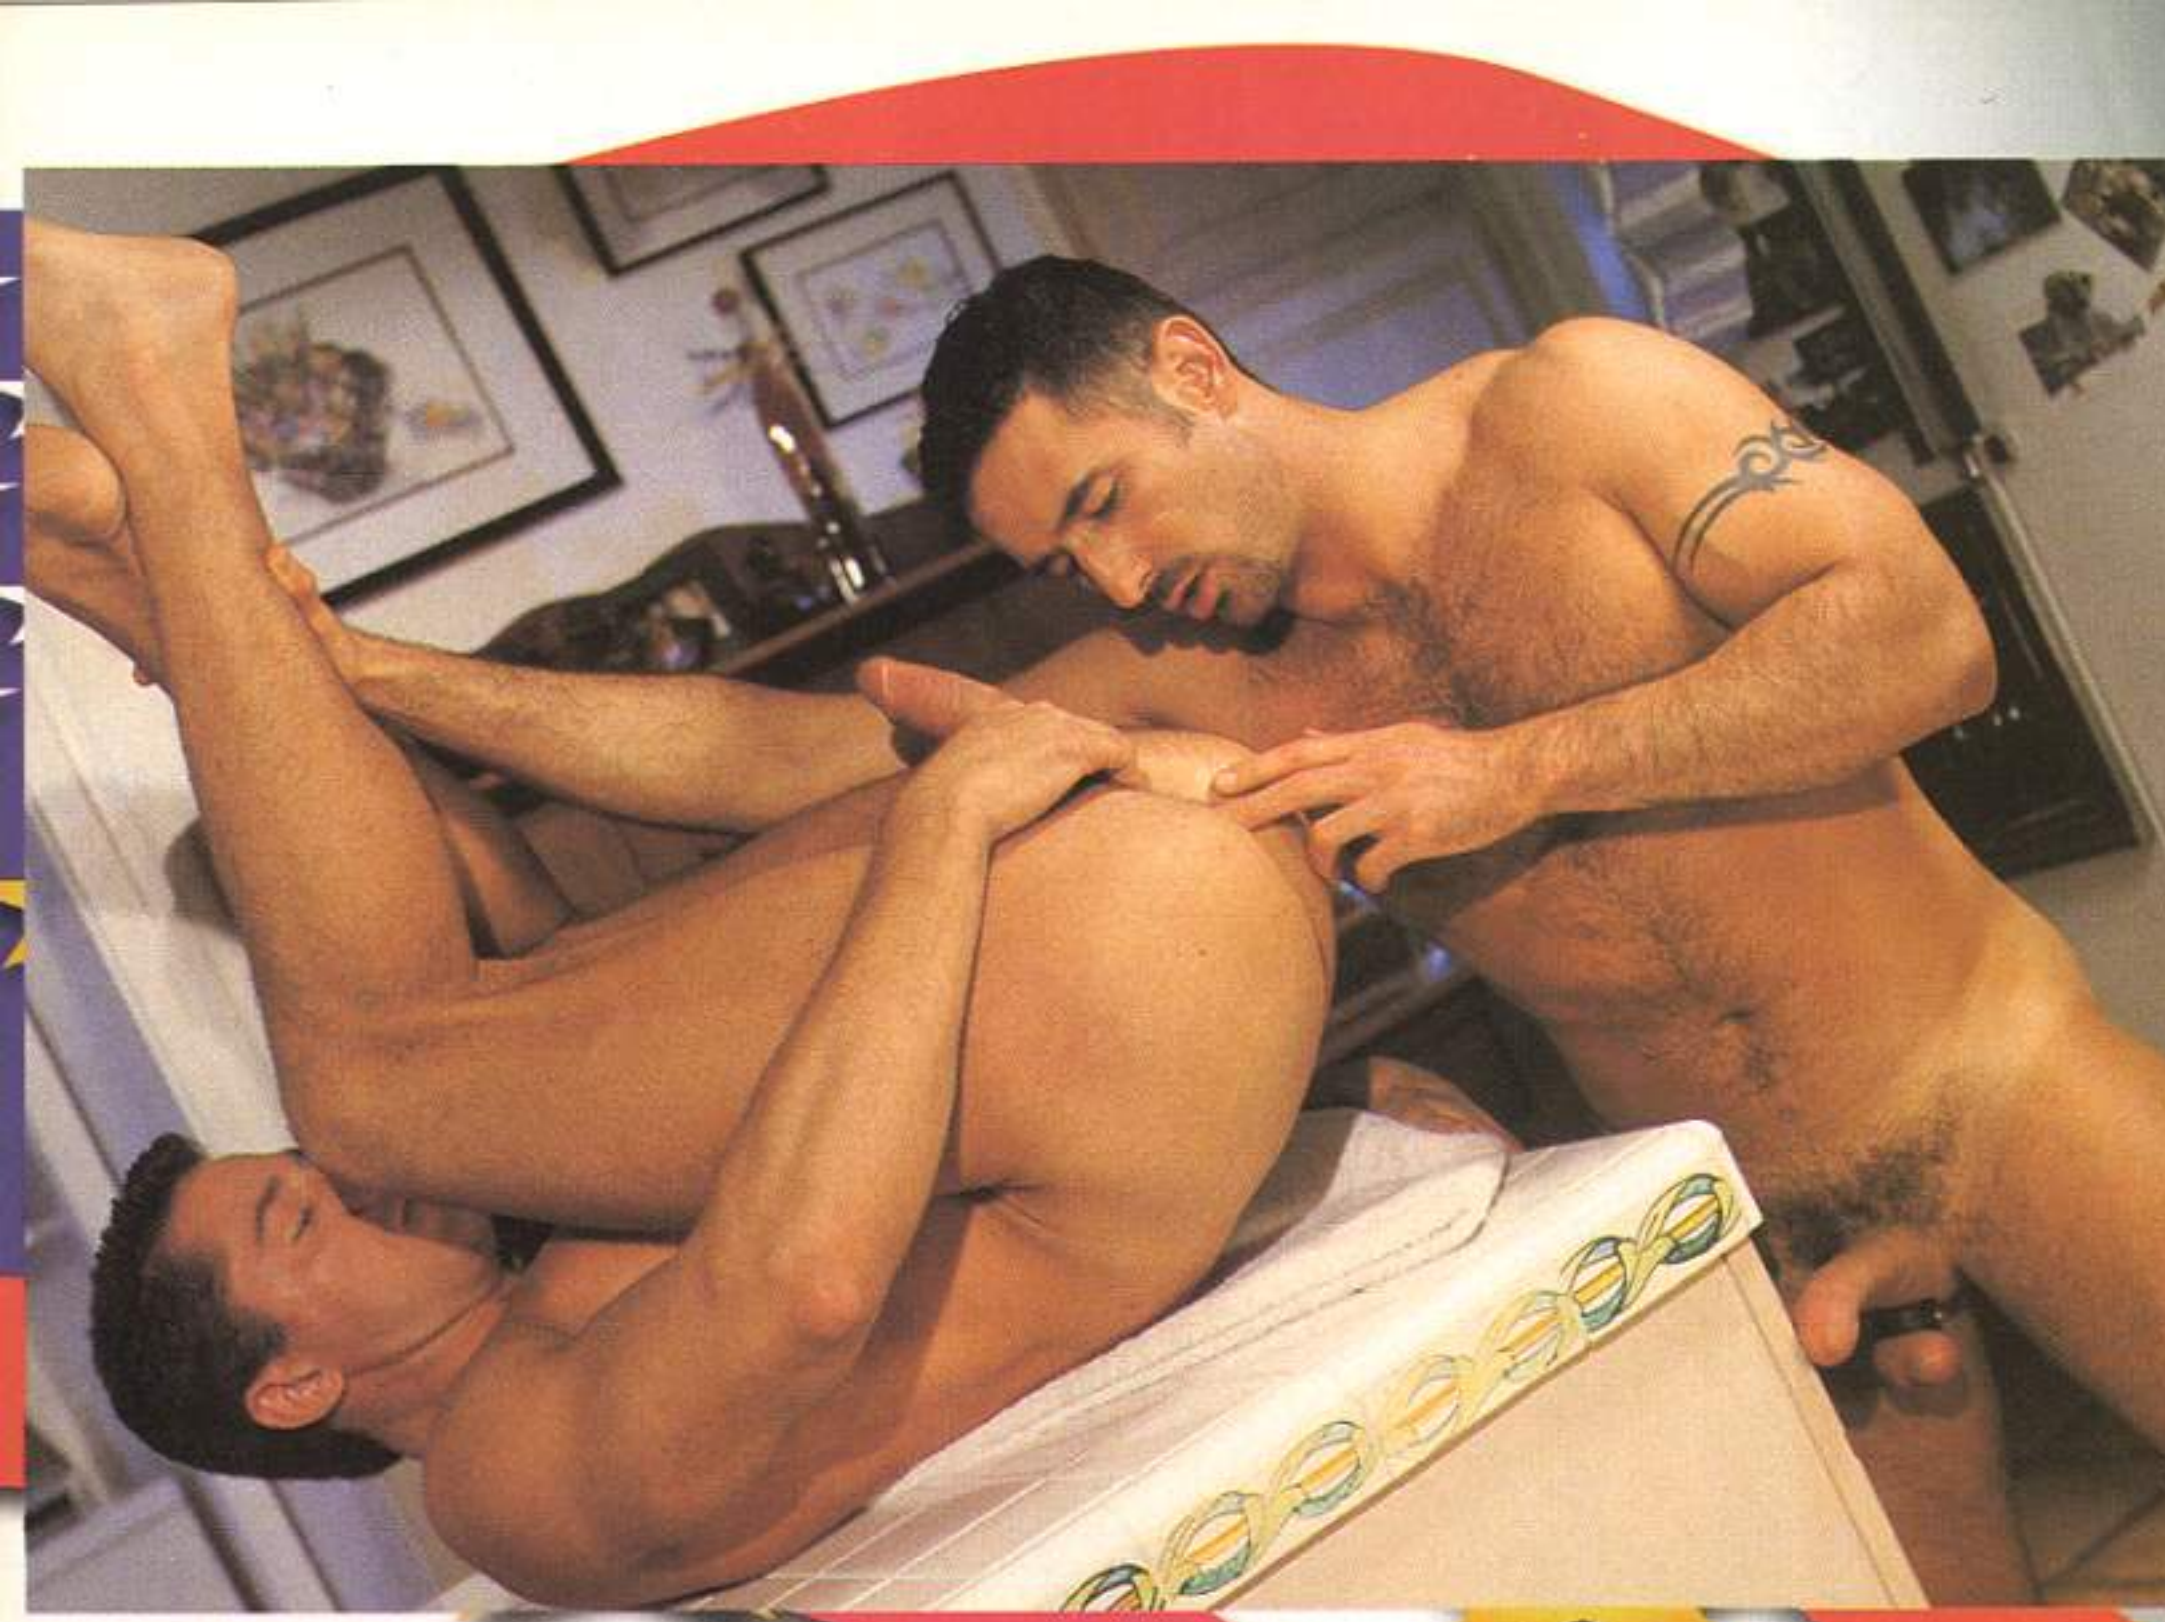
PRESSURE. ALL MALE. HARD-CORE. WELL WRITTEN.

The kind of pressure that Handsome Man Cliff Parker puts into the happy relationship of Drew Andrews and Tony Zerega.

The kind of pressure Cliff Parker puts into your pants when he's viewed having handsome man sex.

This video has both kinds!

I read everything on the package and printed it above. So often what you see on the box is not what you get when you turn on the movie. Not here. CLIFF PARKER is reason enough to buy this video from the opening scene to the last bitter end. That is if you get that far before losing your load to a sofa towel, bedside kleenex, recliner chair trick towel. Yup! It's a get out the lube kind of movie. I think Catalina knew they had something spectacular in Cliff Parker and it didn't matter who the co-stars were.



However, they gathered a great line-up of hunks and the entire movie reflects expert casting, dynamic visuals, pleasant background music and a story that didn't take your mind of the action, as sometimes happens.

The opening with Cliff alone in his bedroom smelling a shirt that obviously belonged to someone else got me going. There are many solo performances to the credit of this reviewer fast forwarding but in the case of Cliff Parker alone...I wanted to slow it down. The man has such sex appeal I have no words to describe it. You just have to take your cock in your hand and watch him.

As if you aren't turned on enough with Cliff you get into his mind and in comes Drew Andrews, a man who probably could turn on a piece of seaweed. Drew is in bed with his lover, Tony Zerega. Another hunk to tease the cum out of you. It just goes on and on and on with one hot scene after the other and never lets up. No way could you watch the entire movie without getting off. In fact you will have to take it in stages I guess. Do what you want with it but get it because it is a Catalina Supervideo.
